Reading scores decline

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Limited improvement in the 1994 Michigan Education Assessment Program scores has frustrated Superintendent Dr. William Bedell, particularly in the field of reading success.

Bedell continued as in years past citing the fact that 32 percent of the Romulus school student body is of a transient nature and thus limits proper ongoing educational procedures.

He also said that 40 percent of the student body is characterized by state educational systems as "low income," which also has a direct impact on test scores.

"While all poor test scores are not linked to low income families," he said, "many are since they many times get limited help or motivation at home."

Contacted Tuesday morning, Assistant Superintendent Joel Carr said "we are definitely concerned about the low reading scores that actually dipped below last year's in the fourth and seventh grades.

In 1993, reading scores tested out at 21.0 and 33.2 for fourth and seventh graders and those scores dipped even lower to 17.4 and 21.8 this year. Reading test scores did increase in the 10th grade from 22.6 in 1993 to 26.5 this year.

"We will have to take a hard look at our 'whole language' reading program style as we work to counter this downward tide in reading," Carr said.

Strong advances were made in the Romulus math scores however in all three grades, with the fourth graders showing the most remarkable upsurge (jumping from 25.1 in 1993 to 43.8 this year).

More modest math increases were shown in the seventh grade (18.8 in 1993 up to 23.2 this year) and in the 10th grade (13.5 in 1993 to 15.7 this year).

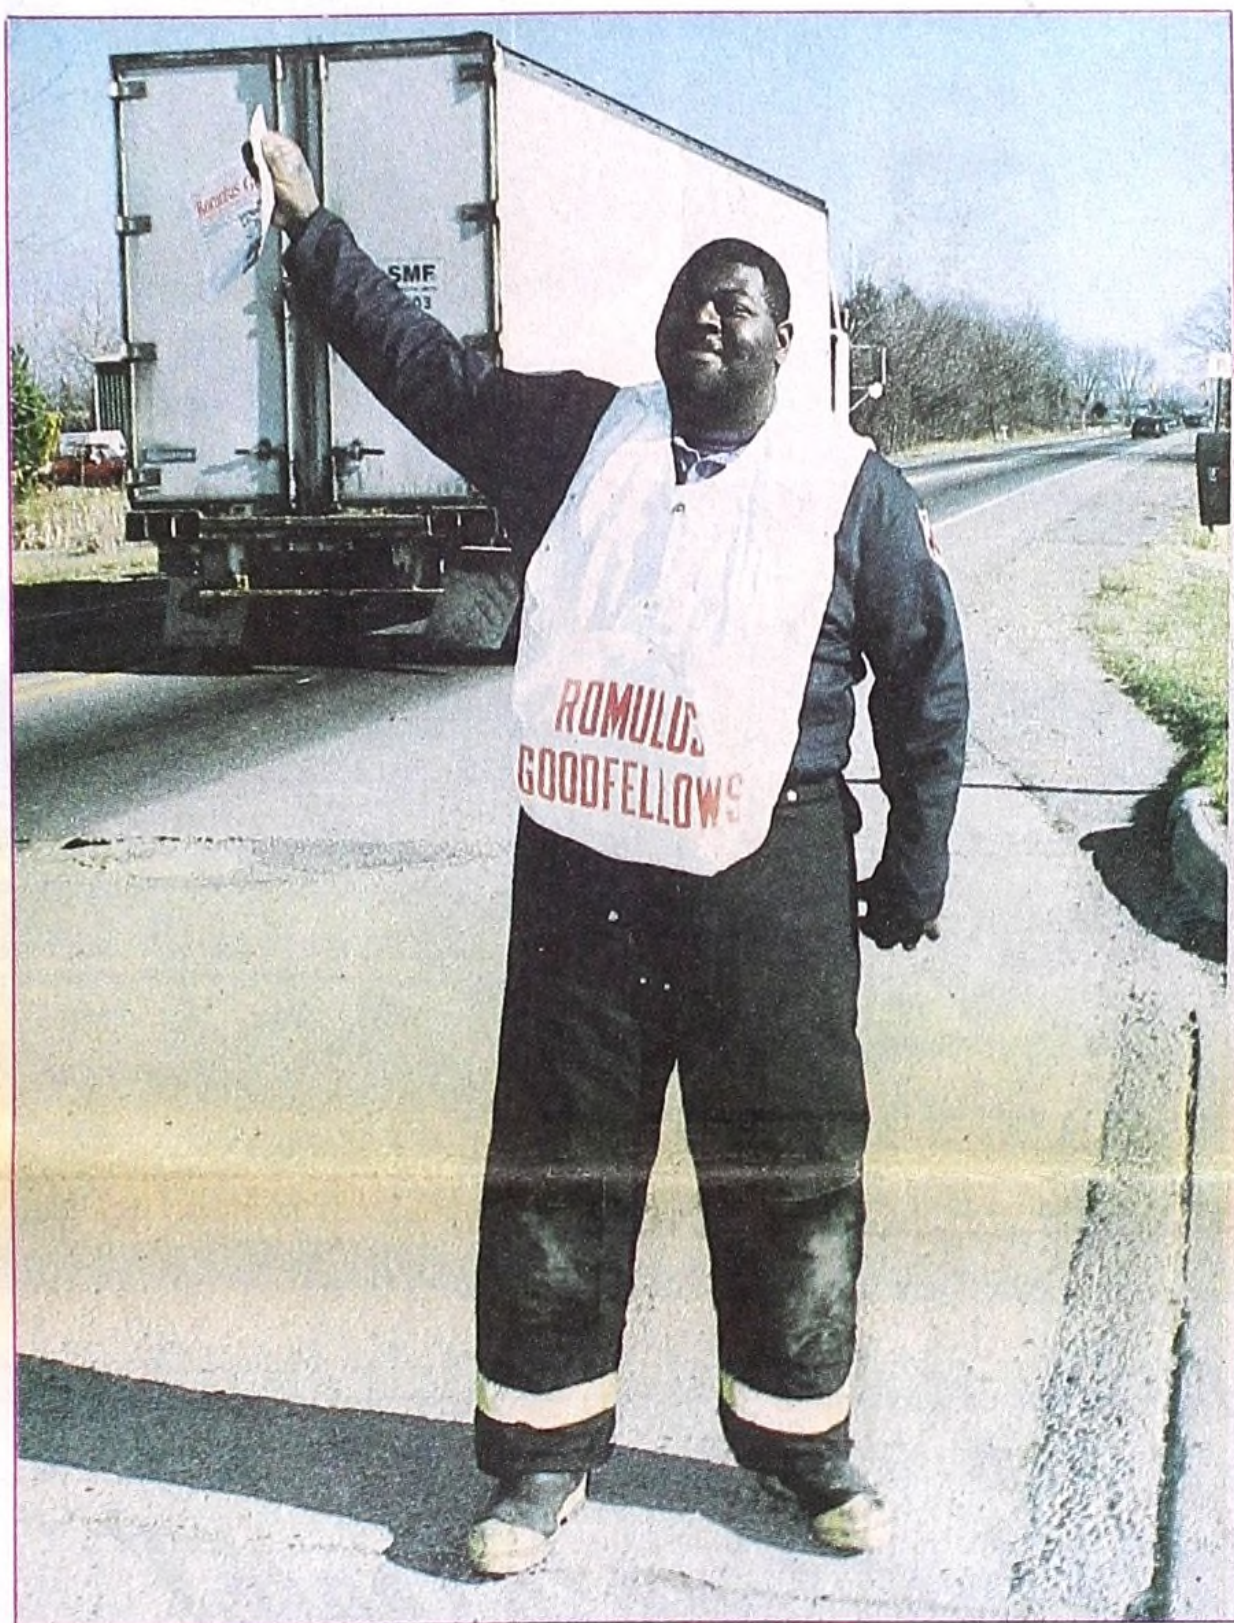

Science scores showed mixed results with small increases in the younger grades and a slight decrease in the 10th grade results. The scores were fourth grade (47.5 in 1993 up to 52.4) and seventh grade (35.6 up to 38.3). The lower 10th grade science scores went from 28.4 in 1993 down to 25.6 this year.

"Our average middle income family students score as well as any other school districts, but the above listed factors drop our overall scores tremendously," Bedell said.

The Romulus School District has offered voluntary MEAP study academies for students during the summer and after school hours and Saturdays during the school year.

"But obviously the persons, who need the most remedial help are not attending," Bedell said, "thus the school board will need to consider whether we can make these self-help studies mandatory."

Bedell said a deeper analysis of the MEAP test problems will be addressed in coming weeks.

Students learn It's not like Judge Wapner's court

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus High School government students learned first hand recently life in the 34th District Court is nothing like Judge Wapner's People's Court television drama.

"We watched 34th District Court Judge William Szlinis handle over 20 cases in a two-hour period, nothing like the 15-minute trials shown on TV," student Josh Remelius observed last week.

High School Government teacher Rod Hanna insists that his students take a hands on approach to their classes, and thus mandates that they attend Romulus City Council and School Board meetings and spend two hours in the local courtrooms.

Hanna also instructs the students to turn in detailed written reports on their government visits and turn them in for grading.

In the court cases, Hanna requested the students turn in reports on all 20 or more cases they witnessed and to reveal whether they agreed or disagreed with the judge's decisions.

I disagree with the judge. I think that assault and battery, especially on a woman, should be punished more severely. I think he should have been jailed.

- Stacy Kissel

sions.

For example Stacy Kissel, a sixth hour government student, reported that in many cases she felt Szlinis was "fair" except when it came to several spousal abuse type cases, where she felt the judge should have been much more forceful in rendering justice.

When Szlinis placed a male defendant, who plead guilty to assaulting a woman, to 11 months involvement in a deferred sentence program and fined him $100, Kissel declared in her report, "I disagree with the judge. I think that assault and battery, especially on a woman, should be punished more severely. I think he should have been jailed."

In a similar case later that morning, Kissel stated, "I think that all wife beaters should serve at least 10 days in jail, no exceptions."

One of the biggest shocks for all the high school students was when they saw a former student friend of theirs led into Chief Judge Felix Rogalle's courtroom on bank robbery charges and later on charges that he robbed Denny's and Big Boy restaurants.

Nikeya Lipford, another government student, was impressed with the speed cases are handled in the local courtrooms. "Justice really came home to us in a hurry, when we saw our friend in court. We realized these things could even happen to us."

Injection well hearing delayed

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus residents will be spared a pre-Christmas divisive twin zoning hearing period on the proposed commercial liquid injection well issue this week, but will face a continuation of the legal battle sometime in January.

The local zoning hearing for the controversial deep well injection project in Romulus was originally slated for Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week, but was postponed at the request of Environmental Disposal Systems (owners of the planned well project).

Earlier hearings on the issue had drawn standing room only crowds at the sessions conducted in the hallway of the 34th District Court.

Acting Mayor pro tem Randy Gear read a letter into the record Monday night from EDS attorney Norman Hyman requesting that the continuation of the hearing process be put off until the last week of January and preferably the dates of Jan. 25-26.

It was announced that the dates would be finalized at the local Zoning Board of Appeals' first meeting of 1995 slated for Jan. 5.

A check with Hyman's office early Monday revealed that the delay had been asked for and while this week's hearing sessions were definitely postponed no firm commitment had been made on the replacement dates.

EDS was urging that the final two hearings be held the last week of January (Jan. 25 and 26), but the ZBA will have the final say on the meeting dates selections.

As expected two members of Romulus Environmentalists Caring About People (RECAP) objected to the delay, stating

Treasurer's audit study set for Jan. 9

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

City Treasurer James Napiorkowski succeeding in setting Jan. 9 as a study session for the recently released 1994 city audit report, but ran into some limited problems with his plans to attend the 1995 Michigan Municipal Treasurers Association winter workshop.

Napiorkowski was accused of not following City Charter regulations this past year by several local councilmen and thus losing $51,000 in potential city revenues by purchasing and then selling strip bonds before their maturity was reached.

The city treasurer said several weeks ago he felt some portions of the city charter were outdated and stated he would call the city auditor to the study session to outline the changes recommended in the audit report and how they were being effected.

Napiorkowski claimed many of the audit recommendations had initially been spurred by his own requests.

The council agreed to the audit study session for 6:30 p.m. on Jan. 9 in the remodeled City Council Chambers.

But when Napiorkowski asked for council approval on his planned state workshop attendance, he ran into a limited block by Councilman Jimmie Raspberry.

Raspberry tried to table the request, but received only the support of Councilman Ellis

State trooper

hit by car

Michigan State Trooper Tim Gronda was injured last Friday, when his stopped vehicle was struck in the rear by a passing car in the eastbound lane of Interstate-94 near Inkster Road in Romulus.

A state police spokeswoman said Gronda was checking out an abandoned vehicle, when the mishap occurred.

The Taylor motorist, who was ticketed for careless driving, told police his vehicle slid on the ice and he lost control of it prior to the crash.

Gronda suffered neck and back injuries. He was treated at Heritage Hospital and released. The state police car was totaled.

Romulus graduate

enters Air Force

Air Force Airman Bret C. Smith, who graduated from Romulus High School in June, has completed the basic training program in Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

By finishing the training, Smith also earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is the son of Conley E. and Paula L. Smith of Romulus.

Optimist Club

students, pitch in

Romulus High School students, members of the Wayne-Romulus Optimist Club and volunteers teamed up recently on a number of community projects.

During the month of October the group did a fall clean-up that included raking and bagging of leaves for senior citizens. That experience was followed by a doughnut and cider snack time.

Optimist Club members also were coordinators of a pair of youth activities that included a bus-lift of 60 youth to the Historical Black College Fair in Ann Arbor and a youth Educational-Spiritual Shut-in program at the New Hope Baptist Church in Wayne.

Thanksgiving was also a special time as the Optimist Club provided a needy Romulus family with a holiday basket complete with a turkey, all the trimmings and extra groceries.

Another major Christmas holiday project is currently being completed by the club members.

Persons wishing to join the club should write to the Wayne-Romulus Optimist Club, P.O. Box 684, Wayne, Mich., 48184.

CROP Walk

raises $4,002

A total of $4,002.05 has been reported turned in by the Romulus volunteers who took part in the annual Belleville-Romulus CROP walk in October.

Maureen Savage, coordinator of the Romulus portion of the walk to alleviate world hunger, revealed a total including money raised by Belleville related residents will be announced in the near future.

Salvation Army

collects $33,349

Bell ringers for the Wayne-Westland Salvation Army collected $33,349 as of last Saturday, Capt. Mark Welsh revealed Monday.

The 1994 goal is $65,000, Welsh said, "so we will need a tremendous last two weeks of our holiday campaign for the needy."

Welsh added, "We are $1,000 ahead of last year, but in 1993 we also were collecting at the Meijer's store."

To date bell ringers at the Romulus IGA store have collected $900, Welsh said, and members of the Romulus Kiwanis Club will be ringing bells there on Saturday.

The area Salvation Army Corps on Venoy Road in Westland services the needy in Wayne, Westland, Romulus and New Boston.

Court

Lipford, who had never been in court before, felt the judges' decisions were fair, not harsh and was impacted emotionally when she witnessed the pain exhibited by the mother of one of the defendants.

Nina Wood, a senior student, said it doesn't take long for you to realize while sitting in the courtroom that "these are real events happening to real people - even your friends."

Steven O'Connor, who feels he may some day get involved professionally in the criminal justice system, said his court day experience "was reality at its highest."

Since one of the defendants "once was my friend," I realized quickly as I witnessed cases involving prostitution and shootings what the real world is out there.

Several of the students said they questioned what seeing their friend in court meant to them personally. They jointly said "we wondered first if we were right by no longer associating with him. Then we had second thoughts as to if we had remained his close friends, whether he might not have been in court that day!"

Roggett Peterson, another student, said, "I was especially surprised when I saw my friend's father go up on an assault and battery charge. That absolutely blew my mind!"

Peterson admitted that a holdup case "scared me. I was sitting in the first row" in the courtroom and wondered what would happen if "he jumped over the counter."

Peterson was so impressed he wrote in his report, "I think that we should make a monthly visit to the court to study the legal systems and what types of things really happen in our quiet little town."

Late firefighter's actions cited

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

City leaders, fellow firemen and hundreds of area residents turned out to remember late Romulus Firefighter Henry A. Barnes last Saturday and heard Pastor Donald McClellan praise him as a man tough enough to help in many dangerous rescues and tender enough to provide "a listening ear" for the hurting in the community at any time of day or night.

Mr. Barnes, a veteran of more than five years of firefighting, died suddenly of a heart attack while sleeping on Dec. 7. A memorial resolution was approved by the Romulus City Council Monday night and Mayor Beverly McAnally called Mr. Barnes "a fine young man, who was highly valued by his fellow firefighters."

The day before he died, Mr.

Barnes spent the day with his two sons, Russell and Ryan, at Cory Elementary School. Less than a week before he was seen selling Goodfellows newspapers to help the needy families of Romulus.

In his eulogy, McClellan outlined some of the most famous of fire rescue efforts that Mr. Barnes took part in including the infamous Northwest Flight 255 airplane disaster and a towering apartment house blaze in Van Buren.

But, McClellan said, he also was sensitive enough to provide the listening ear for any person, who needed someone to talk to day or night.

Born in Detroit on July 8, 1957, he graduated from the Inkster-Cherry Hill High School.

Mr. Barnes returned to his firefighting duties only this past October, after having served earlier with the Romulus Fire Department from 1987-1991.

He was employed as a product specialist with the Sun Oil Co. of Taylor. He married the former Lisa Michele Vernatt on Nov. 21, 1987 in Westland.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons, Russell S. and Henry "Ryan" Barnes; two daughters, Kenya and Keysha of Inkster; four brothers, James, Walter and Robert Barnes, all of Inkster and Joseph Barnes of Washington, D.C.; and two sisters, Tammy and Mary K., both of Inkster.

The funeral was at the Crane Funeral Home of Romulus with Pastor McClellan of the Romulus Wesleyan Church officiating. Interment was in Romulus Cemetery.

The family recommends that memorials be sent to the Romulus Fire Station 3 fund for use by fellow firefighters.

city of Romulus and the fact that RECAP had donated $1,000 toward the city's legal battle funding.

Later another RECAP member, Verlie Wilhide, asked the three city councilmen, who broke ranks with the majority, to explain why they took such positions with council elections coming up in 1995.

Two veteran Councilmen Ellis Pennington and Jimmie Raspberry vowed they were not one issue candidates and would stand on their records.

Pennington added "if the people of Romulus oppose me they can vote me out in September or November. But until then I plan to vote for what I think is best for the city of Romulus."

The third councilman, who also has departed from the majority, Noah "Pete" Bergeron chose not to make a statement.

Ailing police chief

given good wishes

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A "get well" resolution for ailing 40-year-old Romulus Police Chief Robert Brown was approved Monday night by the city council.

The resolution was sparked by the concern first voiced by Councilman William Wadsworth and was approved unanimously after a brief discussion with Mayor Beverly McAnally.

Brown, who has been chief for about a year, was stricken with an energy-sapping ailment about two months ago.

After spending about two weeks on leave, Brown attempted to return to duty back in October, but found his energy quickly disappeared early in the afternoon.

He was advised to try bed rest, but the condition reportedly has not improved.

Councilman Noah "Pete" Bergeron said many of the symptoms Brown is suffering from are similar to those afflicting former Channel 7 weatherman Robert Kress, who has been diagnosed with lyme disease.

Kress has been out of work because of extreme exhaustion for several years.

In November, the word was that Brown would be out until early in the new year. Now the prediction of his return date is unsure.

Wadsworth called Brown

Chief Robert Brown

"our best police chief ever, saying at least he doesn't consider this a retirement job." He was referring to the fact several former police chiefs had retired from other police departments, before assuming their roles here.

The resolution expressed hopes for a speedy recovery.

A second resolution was approved extending support to Acting Police Chief Daryl Poe for a job being well done in Brown's absence.

Speaking on behalf of both officers, McAnally said the council's actions will be very much appreciated by both fine career officers.

Development plan

is placed on hold

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A economic development plan billed as an "aggressive effort to develop and market city-owned pieces of property" and return them to the city tax rolls was unanimously rejected by the Romulus City Council Monday night.

Albert Bogdan, director of economic development for McKenna and Associates Incorporated, listed the three sites as a 12-acre strip at Inkster and Van Born roads, 22 acres of residential property at Eureka and Middlebelt Roads and a combination of 15 acres of multi-family property and about 60 single home lots in urban renewal areas on Van Born, east of Wayne Road.

Bogdan said his plan was supported by the Romulus Land Disposition Committee (chaired by City Clerk Linda Choate), but admitted that not having City Community Development director Jane Downing at the meeting was a tremendous disadvantage for his cause.

Downing was ill with the flu Monday night, Mayor Beverly McAnally said.

Bogdan said his plan would include informing every developer in southeast Michigan of the three Romulus parcels of land and how they could be developed and sold.

mall on the Inkster and Van Born roads site and the two residential areas was outlined in detail by Bogdan, but hit several roadblocks as Councilman Ellis Pennington and other councilmen continued to press Bogdan on the start-up and finishing costs to the city.

Initially Bogdan hedged on the question stating only that they would be "working on an hourly rate," a rate that later was disclosed to be about $ 65 an hour.

But Pennington and others asked "would we still have to pay you after six months if nothing was sold?"

Bogdan said "yes, we offer no guarantees."

After more than a half hour dialogue, both Bogdan and Philip McKenna agreed we need to "go back and do more homework on the project."

Former council candidate Mary Collins said she had queried eight nearby communities and found almost all handled such development projects internally rather than asking firms such as McKenna Associates to handle such projects for them.

Pennington. The tabling effort died by a 4-2 vote.

A motion then was made to approve Napiorkowski's request and it was OK'd by a similar 4-2 vote.

In unrelated actions, the council:

•approved the Teamsters Local 214 contract with city employees calling for a 30 cents per hour pay hike retroactive to July 1, 1994. The total cost to the city will be $58,607.

•okayed a special land use request by Whalen and Co./Powerfone- Nextel to erect a wireless telephone antenna mast at 37230 Northline Road.

•scheduled a public hearing on Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. in connection with a 12-year tax abatement request by Hayes Wheels International for $16.5 million in personal property additions.

Hayes Wheels officials say the increases will also add 56 jobs to the company site.

Donations warm hearts of Canton staff, students

In the neighborhood play I was told when to enter, where to stand, how to hold the doll, what to sing and how loud to sing it. The older girls were picky and bossy!

When it was over, we had a huge mound of money on the table - pocket change donated by the adults. What were we going to do with all that money? I remember being amazed. It was hard to believe we couldn't keep any of it when we did all the work and there appeared to be so much there.

Someone had to tell me an orphanage was, and why it was important to donate money for the children there. I wasn't old enough to know. We all have to learn about charity. That play still seems important!

And so, this Christmas season, charity blossoms in the cold of winter, teaching as we were taught so many years ago. The spirit of giving is appearing like a rainbow, bright colored in the hearts and minds of Plymouth-Canton children, sparked by the generous giving of our teaching staff now that the holiday season has begun.

Visible signs of charity are closely wrapping our community in concern for one another. Trees that provide warmth in the cold are appearing all over Canton as mittens, hats, gloves and underwear are collected on them for the clothing bank - Isbister Elementary School calls it their giving tree. Fiegel is involved, as well as Farrand, Gallimore, Central and Hoben. Gallimore's tree lists items for the needy.

Schools participate without bells ringing. Cans for Kids multiply at Miller, Smith and Pioneer. Eriksson started collecting on Nov. 30. While Allen collects dimes, Tonda's staff rolls about $80 in pennies. The Generous Hart Award at Central encourages food donations. Farrand Student Council members take charge, while Lowell sponsors a pizza party for the most generous classroom.

West Middle School eighth-grade dance mandates a canned food donation.

Plymouth-Salem students cash in on dancing, as well as Central which collects for Mott's Children's Hospital and the Humane Society. Canned foods wind up at the Goodfellows under the direction of Nancy Spencer at East Middle School.

Miller School accepted donations for its Adopt-a-Family. Children request clothing or a toy. A needy family at Eriksson Elementary is helped through names drawing by the staff. Gifts for each family member and a dinner occur through Salem's contributions.

"It's nice to help your own," is the Field School philosophy. Field acts as a clearing house for those in need by sending out a questionnaire to 150 to 160 families. Fifteen families are chosen by the school and the rest are forwarded to St. Thomas A' Beckett, the St. Vincent de Paul Society, Comerica Bank, Girl Scout troops, the Goodfellows and other charities.

Individual spotlights shine on uncommon activities, such as Mr. Williams' sixth-grade class which made poinsettias for their party with Tonquish Creek Manor. Jack Lewis, a fourth-grade teacher at Hulsing, collects food for the Humane Society. Smith

Elementary School students also donate.

West Trail Nursing Home residents welcome the poems, skits and holiday songs performed by Central's sixth-graders, who also made cards for Mott's Children's Hospital. The Marine Recruiting Office in Livonia extends its hand into Canton as Salem High School donates Toys for Tots.

West sixth-grade classes give good used toys to Mel's Golden Razor in Plymouth. Santa finds First Step, a spouse abuse shelter, where he brings the toiletries, school supplies, stuffed animals, soap, sleep wear and sweat-shirts that West students donate.

The Plus Program provides emergency food closets for Head Start at Central.

Maureen Vitoratis has "elf helpers" for her foster children's program, Operation Good Cheer, this Christmas at Isbister, East, Central and West Middle schools where eight home rooms and volunteers from the kitchen staff help out.

What a winning combination our community provides. Nice memories for students and great lessons adding important meaning to the holiday!

Norma Janis named as Plymouth-Canton Extra Miler by board

Norma Janis, special education aide at Canton High School, was named an "Extra Miler" at the Board of Education meeting on Monday, September 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Norma Janis began her career with the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools in April of 1978 as a substitute secretary and was quickly hired as an educational aide at Geer School.

She became associated with the Work Study Program at Canton High School and has worked at the high school in the Special Education Program since 1978.

"Norma is always positive toward students and staff. Her friendly demeanor and ready smile help make our learning environment an inviting one to both students and staff," said Sharon Streen, Canton High School Area Coordinator.

School wins award

Miller Elementary and Canton High School parent Kathy Sonnanstine was honored as a "VIPS" award winner at the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education meeting on Monday, November 28 for her dedication and support of the Plymouth-Canton school district.

The "I Care" committee and the Board of Education established the "Volunteers in Public Schools (VIPS) Award" in 1991 to recognize outstanding volunteers in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District.

Sonnanstine has been an active volunteer in the schools over the past 10 years. As mother of Amy, a tenth grader at Canton High School and of Adam, a fourth grader at Miller Elementary School, Sonnanstine has been a faithful volunteer in the schools where her children have attended and currently attend.

Some of her volunteer duties have included being a room mother, working on fifth grade graduation, helping in the library, running school book fairs, serving as District Community School Council representative and working as a "Miller Math Mom." Other involvement in schools have included establishing the School Spirit Store at Isbister Elementary, being a timer for Pioneer School's girls' swim team and serving as corresponding secretary on the School District Council.

Police probe robbery

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

Westland police are investigating an attempted armed robbery at Farwell and Friends Restaurant and Lounge, located at 8051 N. Middlebelt Road in Westland.

The alleged incident occurred at 2:30 a.m. Saturday when the 48-year-old store employee left the location to go home. The employee exited the front door of the restaurant and walked across the south parking lot. When he reached his car, a dark gray Chevrolet Celebrity pulled along side him, police said. The driver of the vehicle jumped out of the car and approached the employee, pulling out a dark semi-automatic pistol that the complainant believed to be a 9 mm, according to reports.

The alleged robber then asked the man for his wallet and the victim told him he had no wallet or money and opened his coat to allow the perpetrator to search him.

The gunman then told the victim to close his coat or he would "pop him," police reports said.

At this point, a group of people exited the location and the gunman instructed the man to keep quiet. The alleged assailant then said, "I made a mistake" and got back into his vehicle and fled northbound on Middlebelt.

The alleged gunman is described as a 28-year-old, 5-foot, 8-inch tall black male with a mustache wearing a waist-length jacket.

[ALL THOSE TIRED OF CLIMBING IN AND OUT OF A TRUCK, STEP RIGHT UP.]

Getting in and out of a sport utility vehicle can be an adventure. That's why we created the all-new Jimmy from GMC Truck. One of the first things you'll notice is a lower step-in height. This was achieved without sacrificing ground clearance - an engineering breakthrough. Of course, Jimmy still comes with all the strength and reliability of a GMC truck. Like a boxed frame for improved riding comfort, Insta-Trac® 4WD, and as standard equipment, the Enhanced 4.3L, 195 hp V6 engine - one of the most powerful in its class. Not to mention a remarkably quiet interior, and other sport utility firsts - like a choice of suspensions.

For safety, there's a standard driver's side air bag*, four-wheel antilock brakes, and steel reinforced side door beams. For more information call: 1-800-GMC TRUCK. Or better yet visit a GMC Truck dealer for a test drive.

Christmas wishes will come true

Hi. My name is Lorraine. I am a single mother of five children. I was told by some friends of mine that you may be able to help with my Christmas presents for my children. I am a low income family on ADC. Me and my children are staying with friend of the family until we can find our own home. I have three girls and two boys. What ever you do for my family this Christmas will be greatly appreciated. Westland

I know a needy family that needs help. My niece and her daughter. My niece is sick all the time. It's because she is without utilities and she is going on ADC and food stamps. She can't buy soap or toilet paper. They need help with clothes and everything the doctor says it's her nerves. She could sure use all the help she can get. If you call her I would appreciate it. Please help. Garden City

Dear Holiday Wishes,
I'm writing this short note to tell you that I know a very good and sweet friend of mine is having it hard right now and she is very sick. I really wish for her to have a very good holiday this year. So if you can please help her wishes to come true. Food will really help her. I will thank you and I know she will thank you too.

Once again, the generosity of area businesses and merchants have brightened the lives of needy people during the holiday season through the Michigan Community Newspaper-sponsored Holiday Wish program.

During the past weeks, letters have been submitted to us outlining the needs of area families, and we have matched the needs to the goods and services offered by area businesses.

The stories of those chosen as recipients of the Holiday Wishes are listed here, and we relay their sincere thanks and appreciation to those responsible for fulfilling their wishes.

As Christmas approaches, we can all celebrate with the knowledge that others who might have been forgotten are enjoying the gifts provided by the Holiday Wish program.

We applaud the generosity of the business owners who contributed to the program and hope that our readers will remember the spirit of sharing that they exhibited during the holiday season.

Our best wishes for the holiday season are extended to all from the publisher and staff of Michigan Community Newspapers.

Special thanks to the participating businesses:

Dear Holiday Wishes:
I have 2 children a girl age 8 and a boy age 10. I am writing in hopes that you all can fulfill their holiday (Christmas) wishes. Funds for my family are very tight this year and the kids know not to expect a lot of gifts this year. As a result, they haven't asked for anything from me personally. However, I did find a x-mas wish list that they had secretly written. My daughter wants a tatoodles baby kiss-n-giggle doll, a McDonald's French Fry rack maker and a trouble game. My son wants a Sega System, McDonald's chicken nugget Fry maker and some roller blades. My kids have been really good this year and their progress in school has been excellent. My daughter received the greatest improvement award, and my son has gotten all A's & B's on his spelling lessons. If you could fulfill the kids X-mas wishes it would bring a smile to their faces that would take plastic surgery to remove. My kids are great, and a great x-mas is I feel what they deserve. However, whatever you can do for them would be most sincerely appreciated. Thank you for placing the ad in the Sunday Eagle paper and for taking the time to read my letter. Thank you so very much, I hope to hear from you. Again, thank you and may God richly bless you and yours. Canton

Christmas wishes will come true

Dear Holiday Wish Provider:

I ask for 3 wishes, and if you can't do it, please try and grant one, because I know that there are many other poor people like me out there who needs help too.

First, I'd like you to know that I have two kids (1 girl, 7, and 1 boy, 15 months.) I won't be able to buy them any toys this year because my phone will get cut off if I don't pay $197.00 by Dec. 29th. My mother who stays in Georgia agreed to help send me some money to pay on the bills, but I don't have any money at all for Dec. Because my welfare case doesn't start until January. I have no money for diapers at all. My 2 sisters and their kids are going to Georgia for Christmas to be with my mother in Marietta, Georgia. Me and my kids can't go because I don't have any money.

I ask you is it possible to send my and my kids to Georgia to be with the family for Christmas, by train or plane because we've never been on either one. If this is too much my second wish is to have my phone bill paid so that my mother won't have to scrap up her money. My third wish is to have diapers to last for 1 whole month for my 15 month old son. He weighs 28 lbs. And a few toys for my kids.

Please try and help me, I am depressed everyday because of this. I'll be 25 on Dec. 13th, I've been seperated from my husband for 1 1/2 months. Please help me to help bring a little joy to my kids this Christmas. Thank you very much.

To whom it may concern:

I am writing this letter in hope that you can help my sister. She has been in the hospital since July 3, 1994. She has had all of her intestines removed except 18 inches due to gangrene.

Her wish is to have a washer and dryer so that her daughter can wash her clothes. Her daughter has been taking care of her home and doing laundry by hand since August. Her daughter is on Public Assistance and cannot afford one herself.

I should also mention that my sister has had what the doctors call a dual-ostomy. Because of this she must change her gowns and linen frequently. She desperately needs a washer and dryer for when she is able to go home. Any help you can give would be deeply appreciated, since my sister hasn't any income at all.

Thank you. Ypsilanti

Dear Holiday Wish Fund,

My friend is in need of help. She has fallen on times this year. I urged her to leave her apartment of domestic violence. It wasn't until Canton would be better off without him.

Since then she has lost her home and is longer running. She could not afford the car on the car. Because of these problems she is that is dying of cancer. Her father is too children to be around. Her daughter is My friend was forced to send her daughter live with her grandma.

Not much later she found out she is pregnant last spoke with her she wished that her so she could get to work. She hoped to work pay for food and medical care. Then she send her daughter home for Christmas. If there is anything you could do to help fulfilling many Christmas wishes, including My wish is that my friend could be again. Myself and my five year old daughter to see her too. Granting a wish for her granted for many people. Canton

Holiday Wishes,
Blessing for my sister who is unable to work. She has a disability. She is in need of winter boots, sheets, towels, gloves, a head cover, blankets and a blood pressure machine.
Inkster

Hello. I have three kids. and I have to say I wish for a small miracle or any miracle. Anyway, I have more needs than I have wants. I have no phone so I can't give you a number. I'm behind in my rent and have to move next month and don't know where I'll be going. I lost my brother who was helping me with my rent which is too much for me now because I only get $400 which is not enough. I don't have any heat. I have to wash clothes by hand. I would like a washing machine where I can wash clothes. They need clothes and shoes very much. I would love to have a Christmas tree with ornaments and presents under it. My son and daughter would love a ten speed bike and clothes. I have no transportation and very little money. Thank you for reading my wishful Christmas. Have a very Merry Christmas.

My holiday wish list,
My mom and sister need help because they soon, actually right now can't afford their bills let alone a decent Christmas season.

Please help them and if possible to get my sister something nice. Also for my son, he'll be a year old on the 10th of Dec. Maybe a few clothes. Information on help and funding for a HUD Home or somewhere to live. I don't even know how long we'll be here because of rent I'm trying to let everyone have a nice holiday but it's really hard to get by. Thank you for anything you may be able to do. Inkster

Holiday Wishes,
I know a lady who just moved into a low-income housing project and she doesn't hardly have any furniture, just some pieces of things someone gave her. She has 3 children. Two young boys 8 and 10 years of age and they are sleeping on the floor. Inkster

Dear Holiday Wishes,
My husband was killed in a car accident
this year that caused me to have a heart attack. I'm on welfare now receiving $40 every two weeks after my rent. I'm also responsible for the water bill here, which is very high. They also added onto the taxes so my landlord is pretty hard on me about money. With Inkster getting a new sewer system that will raise everybody's bill.
I have two boys ages 16, and 14.
The 16 year old could use underwear and socks. His wish for X-mas is a CD player or cassette player. He also likes ping pong.
The 14 year old would like a bike or T.V. He needs a coat, shoes, and socks to keep him warm. All I would like for Christmas is for my kids to be warm. If possible a grave marker for my husband and also my mother. Inkster

Dear Holiday Wishes,
A family has four sons, 15, 13, 10, and 5. They need food, clothing, and any kind of a car.
And toys for the boys. Below is a list of what each child wants and needs. Big fire truck, sega games, radio control car, watch, jeans, shoes and a watch for the dad and a sweatshirt for the mom. Thank you for your deepest love. Romulus

To Holiday Wish list:
We are a small family with little income. We would just like a nice Christmas for our children. Their ages are boy 2 1/2 and girl 12 months. They would like a riding toy for the girl and an activity table for the boy or clothes for both Boy 3T or 4T - Girl 18 months.
Any help would be greatly appreciated. Westland

To Whom It May Concern:
I am writing to seek help for a very lovely family. The family has taken on a job that no else wanted. She adopted five brothers. She She has given these boys a sense of belonging and security. She has put aside her life desire to focus on raising her boys. She has given them a home of love.
The boys desire a walkman, football, drum set, trouble, dump truck, operation game etc. Will you help her, to give them an extra special x-mas. The family I'm sure thank you in advance.
The woman has no means of transportation to take the boys to and from their doctors appointments. After school activities had to be stopped. She most desperately needs and desires a mini-van. Romulus

Dear Holiday Wishes:
After reading your article it brought hope to my family. Since being laid off from Ypsilanti State Hospital, Christmas time has been very grim. After my lay-off I have not been able to give my five adopted ages 4,6,11,13 and 15 yrs.
old a seasonal Christmas. Being a foster parent of five "drug babies" we have continued to take them back and forth for some type of illness. My car was junked two months ago and it has been hard to take them to their doctors appointments.
My two prayers (wishes) is to have transportation and a trip to "Walt Disney Land" that I had promised them before my lay-off from Ypsilanti Hospital. When the kids have gotten a yes or a commitment from me it's hard knowing that their desire has not been forgotten.
So my wife and I will continue to believe that somehow, somewhere
we will go. Thank you.

To Holiday Wish,
I would like to do something nice for my mother. She needs a bed, right now she's sleeping on the floor. Also my brother is good with his hands. He is very good at drawing I would like to get him some art supplies and an erector set. My mom receives social security $528 monthly for herself and my brother. If possible he has always wanted a train. A used one would be appreciated. I have two children ages 2 yrs. (boy) and a 7 month old (girl). For my son
I bet Desk with Smart Alpha-Bone, and tape, it is a V-tech with Smart Alphacomputer that goes on the T.V. For my daughter a busy holiday wish for my family.

Visits to classroom have mixed reactions

Earlier this month our staff began its research into Education 2000, focusing on how seventh-graders - the Class of 2000 - are being prepared for the future.

Several reporters have spent time in the classrooms observing the lessons and listening to the students' questions and answers.

The results, so far, have been mixed.

In some areas, our staff members have been impressed with the methods of teaching and the knowledge that the students have exhibited. In other areas, the staff members did not feel that the classroom studies were challenging enough for the seventh-grade students.

Our findings will continue to be reported in our Education 2000 series.

Perhaps, if anything, our research has taught us that there are no easy answers to the educational challenges before us. It has also confirmed our assumption that the quality of education differs in various schools and districts - often because of the creativity of individual principals and teachers and the support and involvement of parents.

Our brief venture into the classrooms has not made us experts on education, but it has opened our minds and broadened our perspective on the Class of 2000, and we believe our experiences will make us better able to report on educational issues in the future.

Gun owners must use care, caution

Once again the need for gun owners to secure their weapons and keep them out of the reach of children has been dramatically illustrated.

This week a Van Buren Township man faces a preliminary hearing on charges of careless and negligent use of a firearm. The incident that prompted the charge was the wounding of a 5-year-old boy who picked up a loaded .308-caliber rifle in the man's home. Fortunately, the child was not seriously injured, but the incident could have had a tragic outcome.

Those who own weapons must be responsible for their safe use and proper storage. It is not a matter of gun control, but a matter of owner responsibility and common sense.

Firefighter's life dedicated to others

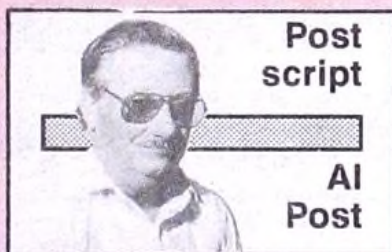

The positive side of living in a small town like Romulus is typified by the life of late firefighter Henry A. Barnes.

Mr. Barnes, 37, touched persons no matter where he went and left them with a warm afterglow...at church, at work, at the firehouse and in his own neighborhood.

Despite an intensely busy work schedule Mr. Barnes always found quality time for his two sons, his wife, his neighbors and his God.

But the major problem in Mr. Barnes' whole life boiled down to the fact "there just wasn't enough time to do everything he wanted each day," his co-worker Al Zimmerman said both proudly and sadly.

The most amazing element of Mr. Barnes' heritage will be that even death failed to limit his gifts to humanity, for even before his funeral Saturday he had donated gifts of life (his own organs) to about a dozen other people.

Post script

Al Post

During this holiday season it is warming to know that God had a strong handle on Mr. Barnes' life and allowed him quality time the week before to be out on the streets working with his Romulus Good-fellow buddies and to spend the full day (prior to his sudden death) at Cory Elementary School in Romulus with his two sons, Russell, 11, and Henry Ryan, 6, and his wife, Lisa Michele.

That quality time continued through the family's waking hours that night and when Mr. Barnes breathed his last there must have been a large warm

Class of 1964 says 'thanks'

To the editor:

We would like to thank the hard working class of 1964 committee for putting together another pleasant evening on Nov. 26. These people have put in many hours over the years making sure to find as many classmates as possible. This task in itself must be overwhelming.

There were classmates from New York, North Carolina and as far away as Texas.

As for our 30th, everyone had a memorable time reminiscing and dancing with former classmates. The atmosphere made for a warm and relaxing evening.

We only hope the committee keeps up the commendable work for many years. Thanks so much.

Candidate questions rating

To the editor:

As a recent candidate for judge, I was a participant in the judicial ratings of a local bar association as well as a civic organization. Even though I received relatively good evaluations, I was disappointed to learn the process by which the ratings are derived. Now that the elections are over and this criticism cannot affect any pending race, I suggest that these organizations review their procedures to see if they can be improved.

Until I participated in the process, I assumed that the ratings probably included a fairly comprehensive evaluation based on some objective scoring criteria and that in the case of a bar association, the added element of a peer evaluation was included. My experience was contrary to these assumptions.

The area bar association evaluation, for example, involved responding to a lengthy written questionnaire followed by an oral interview by a panel of attorneys. The written questionnaire took several hours to complete in addition to the submission of three legal writing samples and a list of six legal references, (attorneys or judges who could attest to your abilities, experience, character, etc.), was requested.

Candidates who inquired, were told that the oral interview portion of the evaluation was simply a follow up to their written questionnaire response and the legal writings that they had submitted. It came to me as a great surprise when I discovered the following:

1. There is no objective scoring criteria whatsoever utilized in the ratings process.

2. Candidates for the same office are not necessarily, and in my case were not, interviewed by the same interview panel.

3. My interview panel had not read my legal writing samples as of the time of my interview nor did they ever contact any of my legal references.

4. The panel's recommendation is read to a committee-at-large consisting of some 100-plus members and is then adopted, unless an at-large committee member moves to increase or decrease the rating.

This rating process in my opinion has some glaring deficiencies.

Presumably, voters do rely on these ratings. We owe it to the voters to make the rating system as fair and incorruptible as possible.

12 rules not to be followed

To the editor:

While sitting through the various and sundry pieces of literature that pass over my desk, I came upon a snappy little pamphlet entitled, "Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children" by Chuck Swindoll. This tongue-in-cheek expose takes a hard look at the things we as parents forget or neglect to teach our children about becoming a responsible adult.

The 12 rules: 1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. This way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living. 2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make think he's cute. 3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 then let him decide for himself. 4. Avoid the use of "wrong." He may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe, when arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted. 5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others. 6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized but let his mind feast on garbage. 7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your child. In this way he or she won't be so shocked when the home is broken up later. 8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. 9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and comfort. See that his every sensual desire is gratified. 10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, and policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child. 11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying "I could never do anything with him". 12. Prepare for a lifetime of grief. You will be likely to have it.

Sound-off

Broken connection back in service

Just as our Sound-Off 729-4006 line was on its way to becoming one of our favorite features, a glitch in our new phone system put it out of order.

After switching from one phone system to another a few weeks ago, our Sound-off line had intermittent problems. During this period some messages were only partially recorded and some callers were unable to access the line. However, as of Tuesday afternoon, the glitches have been repaired and the Sound-off 729-4006 line is back in order.

Calls can be made to the Sound-off number daily between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 a.m.

smile on his face, large enough and warm enough to match his heart from which he poured out love and compassion all his relatively brief life.

Wouldn't it be a fine testimony during this holiday season if fellow members of Romulus society used Mr. Barnes legacy as a reason to set aside their personal and political differences and actually worked for the betterment of their families, neighborhood and city.

For we know that on Christmas Eve, the Barnes family will gaze at their family Christmas tree and know that the star shining brightly on top of it symbolizes the life of their dad and husband.

Memories of 'good old days' sought

Comments about World War II shortages and rationing from three area residents were featured in the October edition of Michigan History Magazine, published by the state.

In an article by Carey Draeger, Park Gregory of Belleville told about filling the meatless gaps during the 1940s with muskrats, which were trapped along the Detroit River, and Westland resident Lorraine Evans remembered learning to drink her coffee black during the days of rationing stamps.

Former Wayne resident Forrest Meek recalled working at a gas station across from Wayne High School and metering out rationed gasoline - three gallons at a time - to customers. He also noted that he patched old tires until they began to look "like Grandma's favorite quilt."

Knowing that there are many long-time residents in our six communities, Michigan Community Newspapers is launched a Nostalgia series featuring reminiscences from area men and women. Stories about the observance of Halloween, the celebration of Thanksgiving and Christmas as well as everyday events will be welcomed.

Individuals may submit memories of the "good old days," particularly events from the pre-World War II era, to Nostalgia Feature, Michigan Community Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

While Swindoll exaggerates characteristics that will get parents into trouble, tinges of guilt may surface for many who realize that they are creating a potentially troubling and troubled child.

Our kids have come to expect that we will provide them with everything they request. In our Young Mothers' Assistance Program (created to match pregnant teens with volunteer mentors), we've noticed a disturbing trend amongst the girls, which suggests that if you become pregnant, simply call any number of social service agencies and all of your financial and baby needs will be taken care of. When asked how a young woman was going to support herself and her baby, one said "No problem, I'll just go on welfare."

And then there is the issue of setting limits and expectations for our children. By not clearly defining right from wrong, we don't use windows of opportunity to teach our children our value system.

Thanks for participation

To the editor:

On behalf of the Muscular Dystrophy Association we would like to take this time to personally thank you for caring and for helping us to make the Mark Chevrolet/MDA event a success. We hope that you had a good time and that you will join us again next year. The money that you have helped to raise will benefit the patient services for the Wayne and Monroe County areas as well as for world-wide research so that we may find a cure.

Again your personal participation has helped to make this an event to remember. Thank you ever so much!!

Beth Callaway,
Linda Ramas
Program coordinators

Editor's note: Staff writer Gretchen Madick represented the newspaper at the fund-raising event. Her story is featured in this edition.

School closing protested

To the editor:

I am very concerned about the proposal to close Fischer

Elementary School. Quite frankly, it simply does not make sense to me. It is my understanding that the board has chosen Hicks Elementary School to remain open. Everyone in this community is baffled. Fischer has a higher enrollment (many children in the Hicks area attend Fischer as their school of choice).

Fischer is a much newer, updated, and structurally safer school. Most importantly, Fischer is located in a safer environment. I could present a lengthy list of advantages for Fischer to remain open, but I trust you have investigated this matter and know the advantages as well as I. So the choice leaves me with suspicion that there is more to the board's reasoning for closing our school than is being disclosed to us.

There is, however, something I would have to give the board members credit for not knowing. Something that the statistics and figures on a computer screen could not show you. We are a unique community. We are not isolated from what surrounds us. In fact, we are very aware of our surrounding environment, and we work together with vigilance to keep our community crime free and safe.

It's ironic that in our times when the leaders of our nation have declared that the lack of community strength has been a catalyst to crime and unfavorable living conditions, that our own school board would make a decision that would set our community on that same path.

Without the vigor and strength of our young people, our seniors will no longer feel safe in their neighborhood and leave. Those of us who can afford to live elsewhere, but choose to stay in this community because of strong community ties, will also leave. This community as we know it will cease to exist and in its place another blight on society will be created.

Please do not make a decision to destroy our community.

Christina Morton
Inkster

Fairness requested

To the editor:

As a patriotic American and a member of the National Rifle Association, I'm extremely concerned about the way the media has blamed gun owners for the rising tide of crime in our country.

More than half of your readers are gun owners. I'm writing to ask you to give them the fair and equal treatment they deserve in the pages of your newspaper.

Sandra Yerman,
Romulus

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

ALL-AREA

1994 FOOTBALL

James Hagelthorn

After two straight losses at the beginning of the season, fans were ready to desert Westland John Glenn. But the Rockets came back and salvaged a season that included a share of the divisional title and a second appearance in the state semis. Quarterback James Hagelthorn, who starred as a defensive back, played a pivotal role in that comeback. "He was super on defense and made plays everywhere," acknowledged Glenn coach Chuck Gordon.

Glenn

Jason Gold

Earning coveted All-State recognition after a stellar season, Belleville's Jason Gold did double duty as a tackle on offense and an outside linebacker on defense. The team's leading tackler with 63 unassisted tackles, the 6-2, 210 QB sacks, three batted down passes, four fumble recoveries as well as four caused fumbles. Jason also intercepted one pass.

Belleville

Brian Gipson

With the help of 6-0, 195-pound senior Brian Gipson, Robichaud kept its tradition of football excellence alive. The school that produced Tyrone Wheatley coasted through the Suburban Athletic Conference with a perfect record and reached the quarterfinals before losing to Detroit Country Day. Gipson's contribution to the champs' success was an outstanding effort at defensive end. "No one can run around Gipson," said Robichaud veteran coach Bob Yauck.

Robichaud

Zyers Ruff

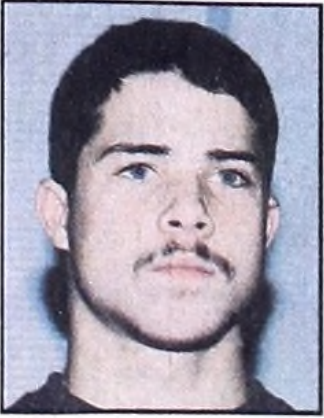

A standout on defense as well as offense, 6-2, 205-pound Belleville tackle Zyers Ruff is a two-year starter for the Tigers. On defense, he counted 50 tackles, three sacks of the QB and also batted down two passes as Belleville enjoyed its best-ever football season. Ruff was one of eight Belleville players who secured positions on the all-Mega Conference, Red Division team.

Belleville

Brett Kubitz

Without Brett Kubitz, who caught two passes against Bishop Gallagher in the Class B playoffs, reigning Suburban Athletic Conference champ would have had a lot of problems this year. A 6-3, 180-pound senior who brought to the Bulldogs three years of varsity experience, Brett helped form the nucleus of a team that posted a perfect record in the SAC and a 8-3 overall make.

James Bohnwagener

Team captain James Bohnwagener started at monster back for Wayne Memorial, which is always a serious title contender. A two-year varsity performer, the 5-9, 140-pound senior is "pound-for-pound" the best player in coach Chuck Howton's lineup. Mega Conference coaches also considered him outstanding and drafted him for the all-conference team.

Wayne

Tyrone Jones

One of those rare players who broke into a varsity lineup as a freshman, 6-2, 250-pound senior Romulus linebacker Tyrone Jones amassed an outstanding record. His credentials include three fumble recoveries as well as four blocked passes. Tyrone also was in on 72 initial hits that ballcarriers won't soon forget.

Romulus

Jeremy Eaton

With 30 solo tackles and eight assists, Plymouth-Salem's Jeremy Eaton earned his niche on the all-conference and All-Area teams. A 6-2, 197-pound end or downed lineman, coach Tom Moshimer uses superlatives when describing Eaton's performances. "He is the best and the most solid performer we had on defense," Moshimer noted. "He was also one of our defensive captains."

Salem

Corey McClelland

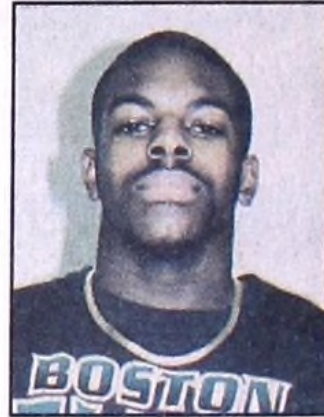

Serving as one of the captains of the 1994 Wayne Memorial team, Corey McClelland was the key to the Zebra defense, according to Wayne coach Chuck Howton. "He is an inspirational kind of player who is a born leader," Howton added. A two-year starter at Wayne, Corey also was drafted as a tackle for the all-Mega Conference, Red Division team. Definitely can be developed as an outstanding college player, coaches noted.

Wayne

Charles Purvis

A hard-hitting defensive back who makes ballcarriers pay for invading his zone, Charles Purvis helped make Robichaud one of the best defensive teams in the area and Suburban Athletic Conference this year. The speedy 5-9, 175-pound back "is extremely tough against the run," notes coach Bob Yauck. He had five knockdowns and a pair of interceptions that prompted Yauck to say: "Purvis is the best one-on-one coverage player I have coached."

Robichaud

Brian Dick

An inside linebacker who was undefeated Belleville's quarterback on defense, senior Brian Dick was among the team's leaders in tackles (59) and fumble recoveries (3). He also was credited with batting down two passes. "Upon his shoulders we put the responsibility of keeping our defense alive and ready, and obviously he did an exceptional job," said coach Bob LaPointe. "We are going to miss Brian next year, you can bet on that."

Belleville

Jeremy Gold

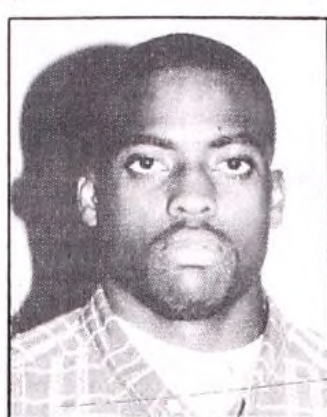

The Mega Conference's No. 1 choice for strong safety, Belleville senior Jeremy Gold used his speedy 6-2, 210-pound frame to make 18 unassisted tackles, caused three fumbles and intercepted one pass. "He was a force, as were his brothers Jason and Ian," said Belleville coach Bob LaPointe. Like his brothers, Jeremy also was selected for the all-conference team after the Tigers dominated the Mega Red Division this year.

Belleville

Matt Alexander

Not only did Matt Alexander make the Robichaud offense go, the 6-2, 170-pound senior also was the fuse to the Bulldogs' explosive defense. As a free safety, Alexander accounted for two interceptions, one he ran back for a 59-yard touchdown. He recovered a fumble that he also turned into a 54-yard score and had six knockdowns. While not stopping the opponents on defense, the all-SAC performer also was busy fueling the Robichaud engine on offense.

Robichaud

Mike Musser

When you have a tight end like Mike Musser, a solid all-around performer for Plymouth-Canton, there are a lot of things an offense can do. The 6-1, 175-pound senior was an outstanding blocker who possesses excellent hands so that if the QB opted to throw, he had Musser for a target. "Mike had excellent work ethics and that rubbed off on the rest of the team," said Canton coach Bob Khoenle.

Canton

Dave Bracht

With 70 unassisted tackles and 19 assists to his credit this year, Plymouth-Salem line-backer Dave Bracht had an outstanding season for the Rocks. He also blocked a punt and picked off a key pass that sealed the game against Northville. The 6-2, 193-pound Bracht was also selected to the all-Western Lakes Conference team. "He's a very personable and coachable player," Salem coach Tom Moshimer offered. "We were fortunate to have him on this team this year."

Salem

Dan Kanaan

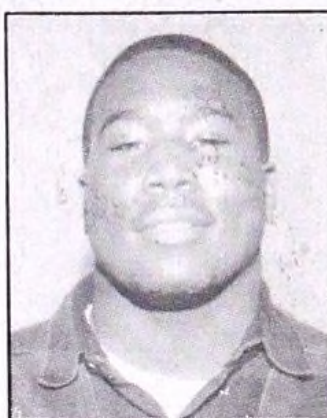

A linebacker who stands 6-1, and checks in at 205, Dan Kanaan also was a co-captain on the Plymouth-Canton team this year. The leading tackler this year, Kanaan also had the responsibility of calling the defensive plays. "He is a good hitter," said Canton coach Bob Khoenle, who added that Kanaan has been a regular on varsity for the past two seasons. Kanaan also is a member of the all-division team in the Western Lakes.

Canton

John Boatwright

A senior who tips the scales at 245-pounds, 5-10 Inkster defensive end Jonathan Boatwright stood out in a year when the Vikings again struggled. An all-SAC choice, Boatwright counted 78 tackles, four fumble recoveries, and seven sacks of the quarterback to his credit. "He was among those who stood out consistently during this season, and who opposing coaches feared the most," said Inkster coach Vic Calhoun.

Rucker's 23 points lifts Rockets to win over Chadsey

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Westland John Glenn cagers shook off first-night jitters and a determined Ypsilanti to post a 63-60 victory Friday night in the Rockets' season opener.

Behind an outstanding individual effort from 6-11 senior center Guy Rucker, who scored nine of his game-high 23 points in the first half, the Rockets soared to a 33-23 lead in the first half.

However, the Braves refused to fold, and came back with a half-court trap in the second half that helped them stymie the Glenn offense.

Ypsilanti erased the deficit and managed to take a one-point lead with 1:19 left in the game thanks to Steve Patton's basket and got the ball back when with a Rocket turnover in the ensuing play.

But Brett Washington managed a steal and a feed to guard Savon Hubbard who went into got the go-ahead basket.

Then, with nine seconds left, Hubbard was fouled in a race for a loose ball and was awarded a pair of free throws which he proceeded to make.

Rucker, who announced earlier this year that he would attend the University of Iowa next fall, came up with 23 points, 20 rebounds and blocked nine Brave shots.

Hubbard finished with eight points and also accounted for nine assists.

Glenn coach Mike Schuette, who began his third year as head coach, used a starting lineup that included Hubbard and John Albrecht at the guards, Rucker, at center, and Albert Jones and Eric Reppke at forward. Reppke, who is 6-8, can take over the pivot when Rucker needs a rest.

Washington, who was one of the major players that led the Rockets to the Class AA state semifinals in football, will probably muscle his way into the starting lineup after he refines his moves.

'Seoul' mates

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The much ballyhooed ethnic adventure, All American Girl, has kicked off the fall television season with great acclaim from many corners.

But, as the adoptive father of two Korean natives, I still wait to be impressed.

Margaret Cho, the Korean-American star of the half hour situation comedy, is impressive as a fresh new talent, but the show (like many new ethnic varieties) needs a great deal of development.

Not being an overall fan of recent sit-coms, I forgot how spliced up half-hour programs of this type really are. Thus, the technological style of current video programs (geared to those with short attention spans) probably won't allow viewers to gain a quick overview of (and affection for) the Kim family for months to come.

After viewing the first two episodes, viewers have learned simply that Cho's television family owns a book store, she and her mother (played by Jodi Long) will battle it out over traditional Korean values for months to come and her grandmother, Amy Hill, will provide the wacky comic relief as a chronic TV-watching rocking chair-potato.

Grandma has popped into the stories with almost cameo-style appearances in the first two shows. In the first, she is watching a televised pornography movie entitled Free Your Willy and in the second she is seen complaining about the family's broken TV set. In desperation she decides to "sign off for the night" by singing the National Anthem herself as she troops off to bed.

Michigan Community Newspapers
staff reveals their favorite new shows

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

We've watched them for a few months now. Some are rather silly. Others are intense. There are a few that looked like bombs, but, with a little help from their writers, they revived themselves.

As the networks continue to compete against one another, the new television shows that hit the fall line-up appear to be holding steady as the new year approaches.

The Michigan Community Newspapers staff decided to watch the shows for a few weeks to decide what's hot and what's not in the television world.

What's new this season? On NBC, Sweet Justice starring Melissa Gilbert and Cicely Tyson is grabbing quite a bit of attention. Sweet which airs at 9 p.m. Saturdays is about two idealistic law partners who don't care about money, fame or power lunches-only justice. It's courtroom drama with a warm, Southern touch.

The intensity of ER has been building up with audiences of all ages since it began. The show hits the airwaves at 10 p.m. Thursdays. In the tradition of Hills Street Blues, St. Elsewhere and L.A.

Law, ER is a powerful series about medicine's true heroes.

Something Wilder starring Gene Wilder is on at 8 p.m. Saturdays. At the age most fathers get the kids out of the house, he's a first-time parent of twins. Introducing the first television comedy for this legendary big-screen funny man.

First there was Thirty Something, and now there is Friends at 8:30 p.m. Thursdays. New jobs, new loves, new lives-they're too old to be having this much fun, but too young to know it.

Madman of the People starring Dabney Coleman is drawing a few eyebrows from television critics. Perennial "nice guy" Dabney Coleman is a columnist at war with his new publisher-his own daughter, Cynthia Gibb.

Just when his fans thought he would never return, Bill Cosby shows up in The Cosby Mysteries 8 p.m. Wednesdays. He finds the smallest clues, exposes the darkest secrets, and solves the biggest crimes. The show co-stars Rita Moreno and Lynn Whitfield.

Martin Short decided to shrink his comedy act down from the big screen to the television screen. The Martin Short Show airs at 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays. It includes a thousand characters, a million laughs and one guy. Co-stars are Jan Hooks and Andrea Martin.

On CBS, The Boys Are Back 8 p.m. Wednesdays. Starring Suzanne Pleshette and Hal Linden, Boys is about how every parent looks forward to the day when their kids grow up and move out.

The beloved Dudley Moore takes center stage in Daddy's Girls 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays. Moore portrays a father who knows best, however, his daughters seem to know better. Sometimes they both end up being right.

Touched by an Angel airs at 9 p.m. Wednesdays and stars Roma Downey. She's got what it takes to help someone in trouble. A heart, as soul and a halo.

Due South stars Paul Gross and David Marciano 8 p.m. Thursdays. It demonstrates what happens when men from different sides of the border work on the same side of the law.

A cast of dynamic stars headline Chicago Hope 10 p.m. Thursdays. Adam Arkin, Hector Elizondo, Roxanne Hart, Roma Maffia, E.G. Marshall and Mandy Patinkin deal in the most precious commodities-life.

Karen Sillas gives a strong performance in Under Suspicion 9 p.m. Fridays. Being the only female detective on the force is the toughest job there is. And the only one she wants.

Meet The 5 Mrs. Buchanans 9 p.m. Saturdays. The show stars Judith Ivey and Eileen Heckart. It's the story of four daughters-in-law and the mother of all mothers-in-law.

On ABC, Blue Skies is gaining a fan club of those who appreciate humor and a little romance. The show airs at 8:30 p.m. Mondays. Corey Parker and Matt Roth run a back-to-nature mail-order company. They both have the hots for their business partner.

How does a single dad cope with three sons on his own? That's the concept of Me And The Boys at 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays. Steve Harvey, who plays the father, is an extremely funny stand-up comic who radiates charm and intelligence in his club act.

Ellen is receiving loud applause for its originality, familiarity. Starring comedian Ellen DeGeneres, the show is about a single woman in Los Angeles who runs a bookstore, hangs out with her friends and comments wryly on life. Ellen airs at 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

First there is the all-American family, and now comes the All-American Girl starring stand-up comedian Margaret Cho. The show airs at 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays. It's about a sassy college student who still lives with her straitlaced parents. The show co-stars Ashley Johnson who also was in Growing Pains.

At 8 p.m. Thursdays, My So-Called Life reveals life as seen through the eyes of a 15-year-old. It's being called the best new show of the season. Claire Danes is adolescent, all awkward emotions and surging glands.

Move over Waltons, McKenna has arrived. Now showing at 9 p.m. Thursdays, Chad Everett stars in McKenna as a wilderness guide with a family-run business that takes rattled urbanites on white-water rafting trips, gnarly hikes. Sometimes the people hurt themselves, and Everett has to rescue them.

What's your favorite new show? Residents are encouraged to write to the Michigan Community Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne Mich., 48184, and the responses will be shown in a future Suburban Living issue.

Comedies favored over drama, romance shows

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

In my so-called "spare time" the new television shows that have caught my eye are Sweet Justice, All American Girl and Ellen.

I usually sway to comedy because I enjoy laughing after a stressful day at the office. When they took Cheers, probably many fans felt somewhat of a loss on the television network because it was a class act show with unbeatable talent. Every character in Cheers had captured the hearts of their viewers, and that's hard to do.

But, as change is always constant, we were forced to adjust and tune into an entire new lineup of faces and places. All American Girl is refreshing because it introduces a new kind of family whose culture really hasn't been exploited as much on television, especially in the comedy area.

Margaret Cho at first was somewhat stiff with her role, but she appears to have relaxed a bit and become the character. The individual who steals scenes from time to time is the grandmother. The family bickers back and forth like any other family, however, there are a few family traditions not seen before.

Sweet Justice caught my eye because of the talent involved, Melissa Gilbert and Cicely Tyson. Together they take on unpopular cases refused by the most prominent ambulance chasers in town. The show is voted by the critics as stiff, however, I found it to be very intellectual and unique. Of all the legal shows that appeared five or six years ago, this one seems to have a fresh new look.

Being a big fan of Seinfeld, I wasn't ready to watch another show about friends, but when I took a look at Ellen starring Ellen DeGeneres, you can't help but like the character.

She is somewhat the female version of Seinfeld. Once again, it's a simple show about nothing, but you end up thinking it has something.

I have to say, however, out of all the new television shows this season, nothing beats my old television show-David Letterman. He is one individual in this world who seems to get away with anything. And, have you ever noticed that the more fun he has, the more he gets paid. Great concept.

Mystery show is predictable

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

Being a mystery buff myself, I have to say I was a little disappointed with the completely predictable ending of the hour-long NBC Cosby Mysteries.

The show, which airs Wednesdays at 8 p.m. on Channel 4, began with an introduction of exactly who had the motive to kill the victim and that was indeed the person who committed the crime. A child could have figured this one out folks.

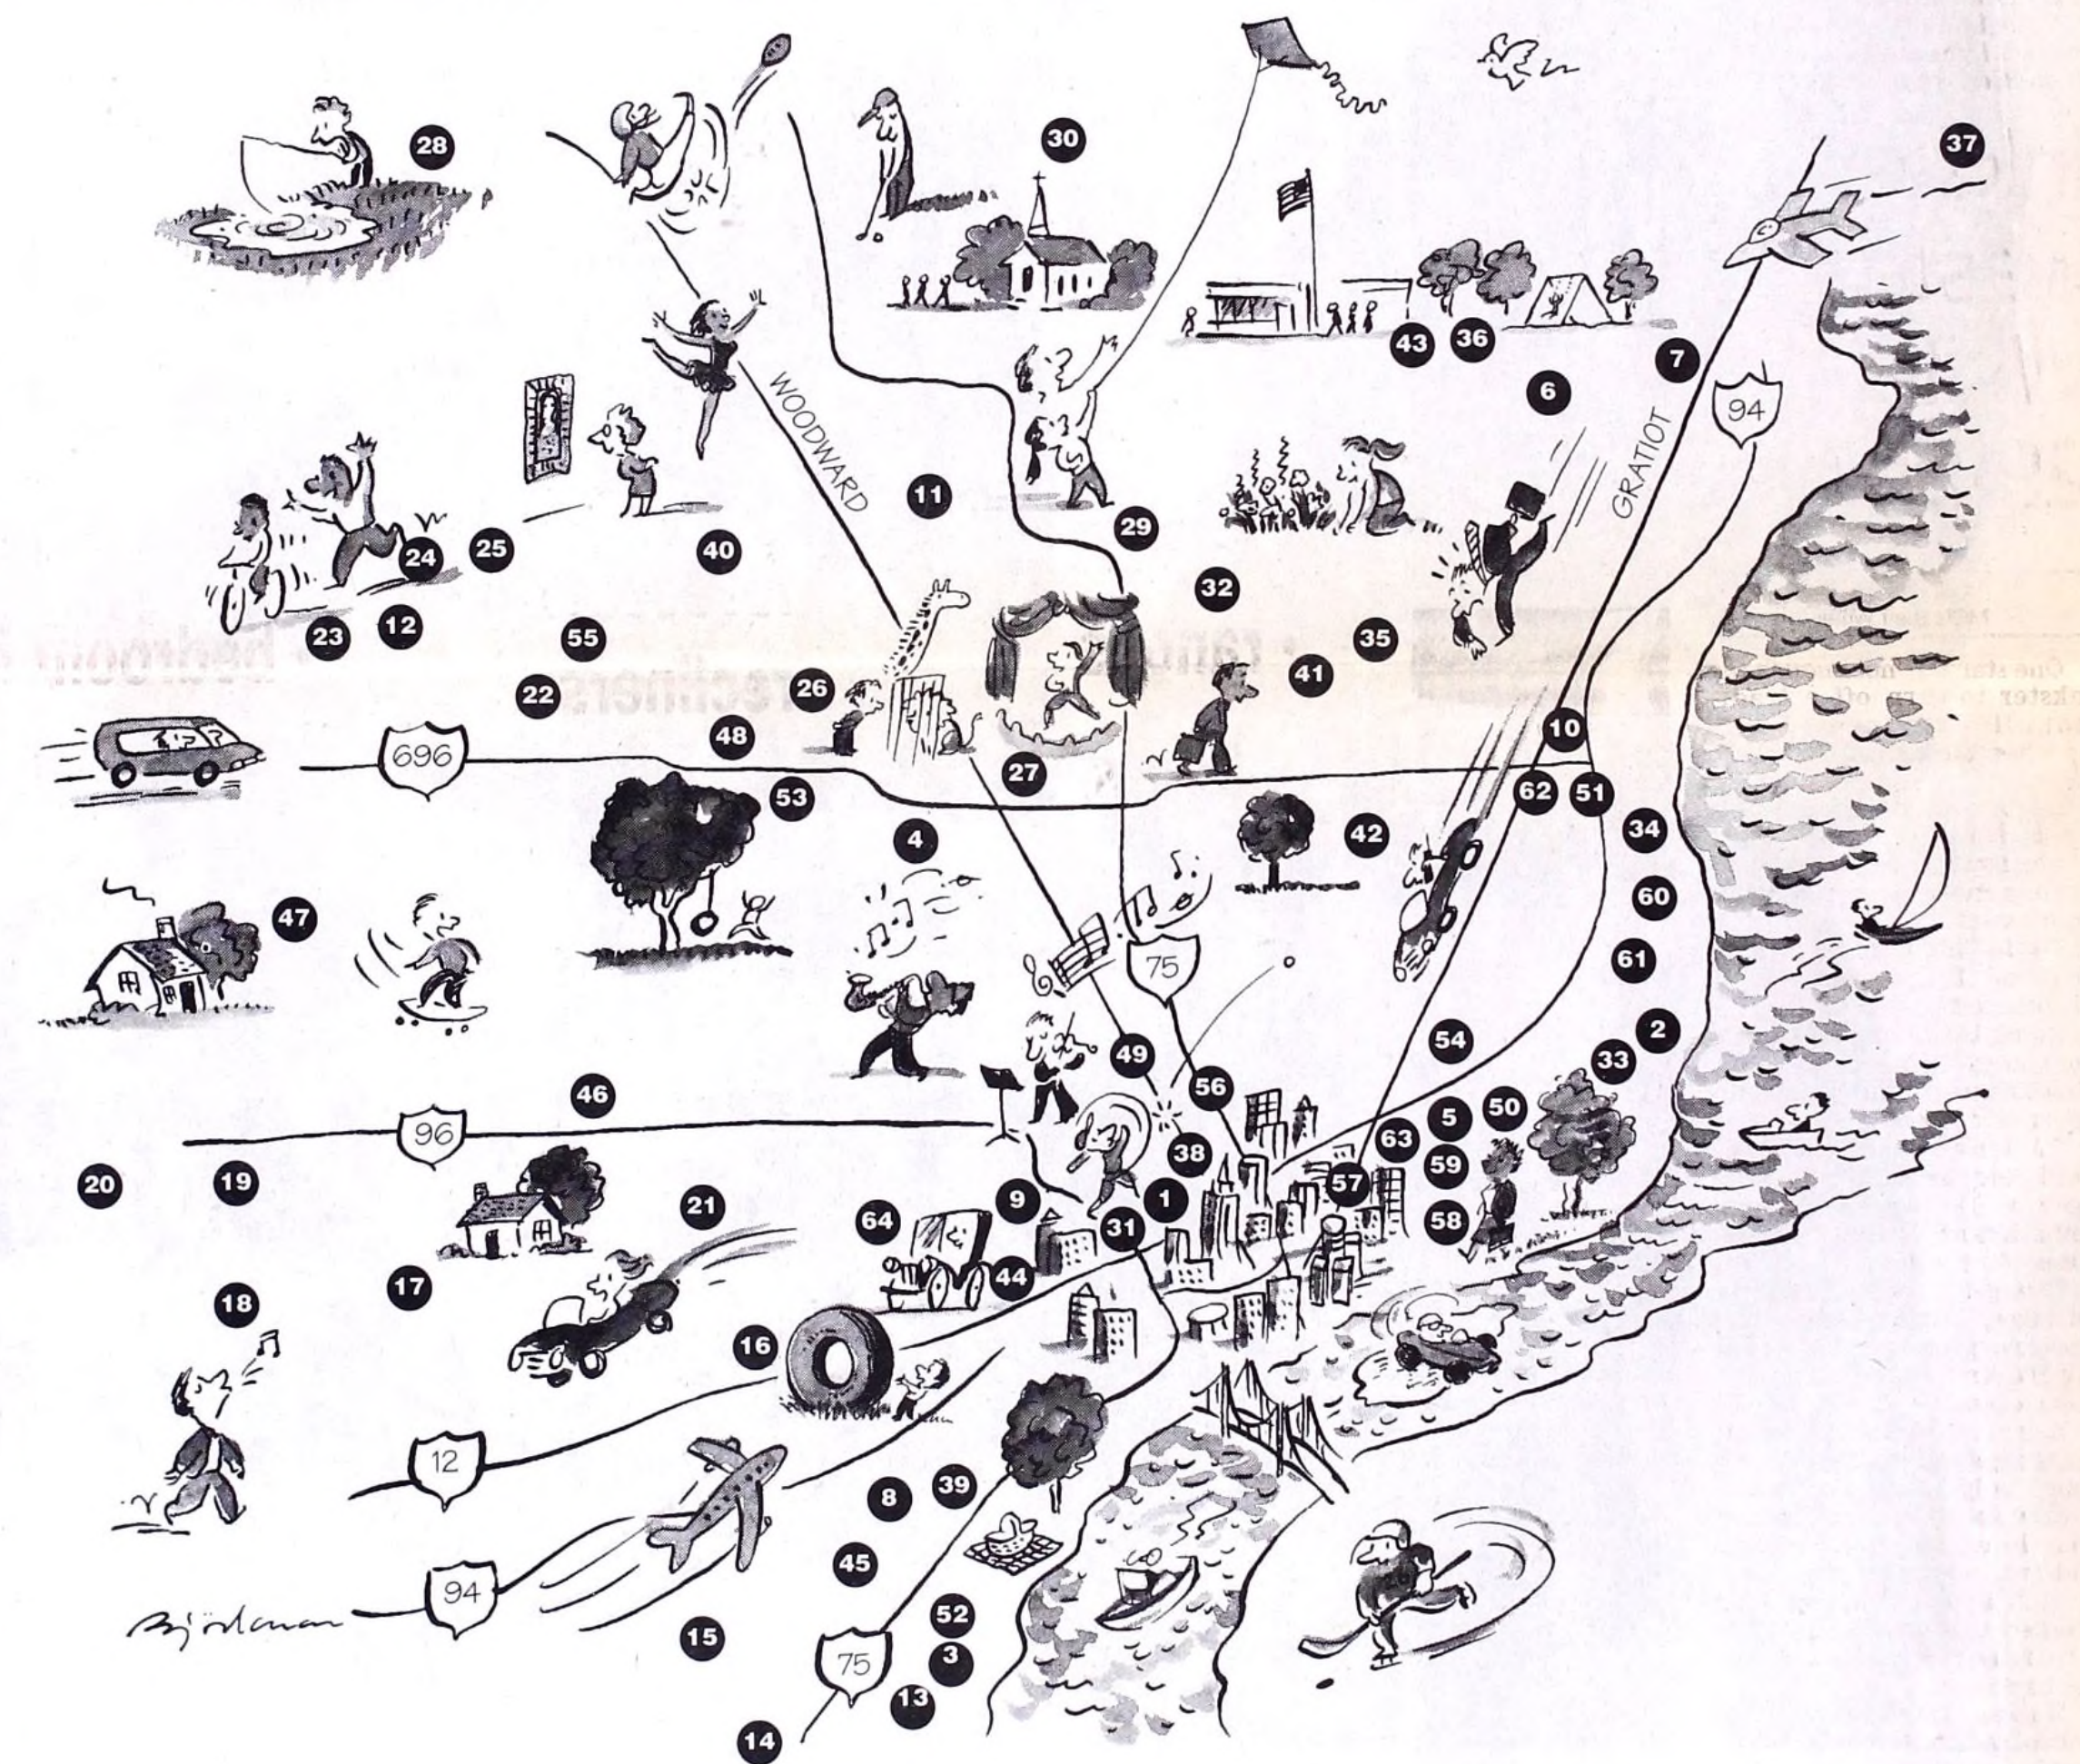

The show did not make me work at all and, therefore, I became easily bored. The whole point of a mystery is to be "in the dark," and knowing who had the perfect motive, made the length of the show even more tiresome to watch.

The show opened with the victim's sister-in-law meeting with a private detective to catch her husband and his lover.

In the next scene, Bill Cosby, who plays a detective/doctor, is at the hospital when the victim is rushed into emergency having difficulty breathing. Her husband and daughter follow and Cosby entertains the little girl as the man watches his dying wife.

The death is determined to be due to an asthma attack, but when the husband asks Cosby to help him find out what his wife was doing the day she died, Cosby eventually stumbles onto the fact that the woman was poisoned.

His search leads him first to talk with the man's brother and sister-in-law who describe the victim and her husband as the perfect couple. Cosby then checks out the victim's place of employment where he discovers she was taking two-hour lunch breaks and leaving work early, an obvious sign of an extra-marital affair.

The major flaw to date that I see is the limited involvement of the father (played by Clyde Kusatsu), since in native Korean-style families fathers are dominant factors.

The show holds some promise, even though the ethnic factors seem to be injected into the script rather than flowing with an even style.

If the show begins to falter mid-year, don't be too surprised if a brash new neighbor named Archie Bunker moves next door.

In the meantime, we'll just have to keep the faith by watching the country's first Seoul-sister.

Romulus basketball team bounces back after 2 wins

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus bounced back last week from a frustrating overtime loss to nemesis Adrian in the season opener to chalk up a pair of impressive basketball victories at the expense of Taylor Truman and Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Sophomore Romulus coach Guy DeGiudice said he was disappointed at the 87-79 loss to Adrian, "but not at the way our kids played."

"Adrian was ranked in the top 20 at the beginning of the season by one of the polls," DeGiudice noted, "and we gave them a battle right down to the wire."

Romulus came back and trounced Taylor Truman 91-49, and disposed of Ypsilanti Lincoln 76-52 to take a 2-1 record into the week.

The Eagles tuned up for their own holiday tournament Tuesday night, clashing with perennial cage power Bishop Borgess. On Saturday they will host Detroit Cody, Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Detroit Northwestern.

In the first game scheduled for 6 p.m., Robichaud squares off with Northwestern, while Cody and Romulus clash in the nightcap at 8. The championship will be decided Monday night at Romulus High.

Inkster wastes White's 29 points

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

One star was not enough for Inkster to turn off a traditionally- talented Flint Beecher basketball club last week.

Despite a superb performance from 6-6 senior Albert White, the Vikings fell to Flint 71-60 in the season opener for both teams.

White fired in 29 points, grabbed 19 rebounds and blocked four shots, but the outstanding individual effort was not enough to overcome 22 Viking turnovers and an erratic effort on defense.

Inkster coach Monte Dennard said he wasn't discouraged by the season- opener setback and offered "no excuses" for the loss.

"We got to eliminate our mistakes," Dennard said, "and we must play smarter. Those are the keys to our game and our success."

Dennard didn't mention anything about the obvious absence in his lineup of James Outlaw, an All-Area performer who did not play in the opener. Outlaw's status is also questionable because he has reached the age of 19, therefore, there is a question about his eligibility.

Under Michigan High School Athletic Association rules, a student who reached his 19 year may not be eligible to compete in varsity competition.

Inkster school officials are seeking clarification and may even file a lawsuit to allow the young athlete to finish out his senior year, they said.

Outlaw was a major force in the Vikings' drive for a Class B state title a year ago. He averaged 17 points per game in a 23-1 Viking season a year ago.

Even with Outlaw sidelined the Vikings gave Beecher, a perennial Class B state title contender, a battle to the wire. The Vikings took charge 13-12 after one period, again thanks to White's seven points, and stayed in the running 29-26 at the halfway point.

But Beecher came back on the strength of its balanced scoring to go up 52-44 after three, then went on and outscored their rivals 21-15 in the final eight minutes.

The Vikings helped in their own demise as they committed 22 turnovers and made eight of 15 free throws.

now, Romulus remains an independent for the 1994-95 campaign.

Adrian effectively used its long-range guns to gun down the Eagles last week. They hit on 13 tres for the evening and had a 21-13 edge after the first period before Romulus adjusted and came back and outscored their hosts 23-13 as Mike Bell and Cliff Stewart led the comeback.

Romulus' 6-2 senior captain

Antoine Stoudmire, an All-Area cager a year ago, was plagued with foul problems in the opener and sat out most of the game, including the overtime where Adrian outscored the Eagles 14-6 to salt away the victory.

Romulus managed to take a 45-44 lead at halftime, before Adrian came back and outscored their rivals 18-15 in the third quarter.

Both teams made the same number of free throws (14), but the Eagles had 20 chances to Adrian's 16.

Stewart, with 17, led the losers and Skip Luster added 16 while Bell hit for 15.

Romulus apparently took its frustrations of a opening-night loss out on Truman as the Eagles exploded to a 31-point first-period and held a 53-21 lead at halftime giving DeGiudice ample opportunity to substitute.

Stoudmire found the range for 20 points, the game's high, and also grabbed 20 rebounds. Luster and Bell each had 18 points for the evening.

Romulus broke open a close game with Lincoln by outscoring the Railsplitters 24-10 in the third and 18-6 in the fourth in a 76-52 trouncing of their rivals.

"We came out with a half-court press in the second half and they didn't adjust," the Romulus coach stressed. "I think that made the difference."

Lincoln stayed close after one - they trailed 18-14 and were up at the half 36-34 before the Eagles bolted in the third thanks also to Luster who had two big "threes" in that crucial frame.

Stoudmire again led the pack with 17 and Bell was close behind with 17 - four of those were tres. Luster finished with 13.

Unions fear repercussions from trade agreements, tariffs

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

A local United Auto Workers leader fears that passage of the 22,000-page General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, known as GATT, might be fatal to organized labor.

"If we continue on the present course of politics and administration of duties, we are destined to die," said Keith Kaye, president of Local 735, in Canton. "Unions are in a non-leveraged position, which GATT and NAFTA (North American Free Trade Agreement) just accelerate."

Kaye said that the labor movement must improve its image and win over the public before it is too late.

While UAW President Owen Bieber and Region 1A (which includes western Wayne County) President Bob King have complained that GATT favors multinational corporations over "ordinary people," neither has proposed any counter actions. King said that people must get politically active to change the agreement to favor expanding trade in a way that benefits workers.

GATT dealt with many of the enormously sensitive political issues facing the international trading system, including the gradual reduction of tariffs on agricultural products and the protection of intellectual property rights, like copyrights and patents.

Much to the labor leaders' dismay, it does not govern how countries act within their borders, ignoring labor conditions, environmental standards, and human rights.

"This hurts American workers by putting them in competition with prison and child labor, people making 1/20 to 1/50th of what American workers make, while American executives are the richest in the world," said King. "Workers deserve at least the same protections as business."

Jeff Washington, president of Local 900 in Wayne, said that competition with cheap labor would be "devastating," and would reduce American workers pay and erode our "accustomed standards of living."

However, the subjects of these complaints, countries like China and Indonesia, have already told the Clinton administration that they consider these questions to be off limits. And Laura Tyson, the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, denied that these are economic issues.

Negotiable are issues benefiting business, so the administration is seeking additional agreements on the movement of "cultural" products, like movies, across national borders and on the opening of markets to foreign insurance companies, securities firms and banks.

Kaye blames current labor leaders for losing the public sympathy needed to defeat GATT.

"We have to come in and modernize our strategy, and we have to understand marketing," he said. Specifically, unions must quit supporting entitlements, he said. "If we look back to Nov. 8, we can see that the public is tired of a lot of the union philosophy. The politicians we support are socialistic and people are tired of paying for it."

Bill Clinton is an example, he said.

Kaye fears that unless Michigan unions change their image, Gov. Engler's policies will destroy them, beginning with the public sector unions.

"If you get rid of legitimate unions, then business will have a field day," he said.

Citing the General Motors Corp. Willow Run plant that builds powertrains, he said that GATT will accelerate GM's ability to out-source.

Though believing it is possible for a committed union leader to mount a campaign to remedy GATT, he said, "But I don't see anybody who has the courage or ambition to do the right thing."

New law protects battered victims

Domestic violence victims could count on the new legal system to better protect them from their abuser under a five-bill package recently approved by the Michigan House, said Rep. Deborah Whyman, (R-Canton Township) principal sponsor of the legislation.

"Michigan's existing laws are inadequate and often impede the ability of law enforcement to arrest or remove a batterer from the home," said Whyman, a former domestic violence counselor at a Washtenaw County shelter. "For that reason, many women continue to feel powerless, leaving them discouraged and skeptical of the court's ability to keep them safe. Bolstering their security through reliable, accessible legal protection will help restore confidence and empower them to end the violence."

Under Whyman's initiative, House Bill 5804, a court-requested restraining order would be effective immediately after a judge signs it, rather than when it is served to the abuser. In addition, the personal protection injunction would automatically be entered into the Law Enforcement Information Network. These changes would untie the hands of police who currently cannot arrest the accused batterer until proof of service has been returned to the court. The restraining orders would tell alleged abusers that they must stay away from the victim or face arrest.

"Every violent rampage by a mate must be looked at as a potential homicide. And a quick response from police and courts is the best method to avert such a tragedy," said Whyman. "Domestic abuse is about power and control. This legislation neutralizes that dominance and provides victims a viable exit from their life of brutality."

The lawmaker explained that the package also expands the definition of domestic violence to include dating partners and adds property damage to the criteria judges can use to issue a restraining order. Stalking and divorce action personal protection orders also are incorporated. Other reforms include simplifying legal forms and making court services more accessible to low-income women.

"A coordinated effort from citizens, government and law enforcement, fortified by stringent domestic violence laws is essential to combat the seriousness of this crime," said Judy Ellis, executive director of First Step, Western Wayne County Project on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault. "We commend Representative Whyman for her leadership. She is a voice for victims that cry out for action."

"Michigan has come a long way toward stemming the incidents of domestic abuse. Yet ending the violence will take more than firming up our protection laws," she concluded.

The legislation now goes to the Senate.

Writer arrested for good cause

By GRETCHEN MADICK
MCN Special Writer

"I have a wonderful opportunity for you," said Joan Dyer-Zimmer as she approached me with her tongue-in-cheek, unsuspecting voice. "The opportunity to be arrested by the secret police and locked up at Mark Chevrolet in Wayne."

The lock-up would last only one hour and the calls for donations - to bail me out of jail - would be easy.

What do jail mates wear, I wondered, as I took the time to apply make-up for my picture on Dec. 6.

Hourly lock-ups of one or two volunteers began at 9 a.m. and continued until 4 p.m., related Mark Houchins, my arresting officer and an employee of Mark Chevrolet. Officer Gamal Ahmed from the Inkster Police Department supplied the handcuffs.

Phone lines were the only repetitive patterns I saw, as cell bars didn't make the scene. No one took my shoe laces, either.

My partners in crime included Wayne Mayor Kenneth Warfield, Wayne City Manager John Zeck, Ed Hood of Hood Real Estate, Mike DiMaria from Omnicon Cable and veterinarian Sharon Lawrenchuk plus the pastor of St. Theodore's Church in Westland. We received the royal treatment with a great lunch plus pop and cake - no bread and water for these prisoners.

Beth Callaway, Linda Ramas and Meg Callow represented the Canton Muscular Dystrophy Department which serves all of Wayne and Monroe counties. Lock-ups occur twice a month throughout the year and Mark Chevrolet is credited for doing two in 1994. Western Metro Detroit has 650 children and adults suffering from the disease. Some are born with it, other forms appear genetically and some kinds just show up with no family history, they said.

Patient services count for 82.6 percent of the MDA funds. Camp Cavell in Lexington, Mich., is supported by the MDA and is the Michigan Institute of Neurological Disorders, Inkster officer Gamal Ahmed slaps the cuffs on the wrists of Gretchen Madick after she was "arrested" by the Muscular Dystrophy Association-sponsored "secret service." MCN photo by Ken Garner where Dr. Michael Nigra, an expert in the field, practices.

Muscular dystrophy (MD) doesn't come pre-planned. Un-suspected attacks can appear at any age. No payment for the effort involved in dealing with it and no free publicity for all the heartache, either. While the opportunity to live with muscular dystrophy may involve growth of some kind, it clearly represents deterioration. Nothing easy or superficial about MD and what you wear and how you apply make up. Many families have two or three children dealing with it on a daily basis.

Funds are dispersed into world-wide research as well as the efforts of Dr. Jeffrey Chamberlain of the University of Michigan. Chamberlain is being counted on for his successful treatment of a form of MD that infects mice. Still, the length of time the current research will reach human distribution is anticipated to be a 10-year interval. Forty separate diseases take their toll, one of the worst being duch-ene, a terminal form that targets boys.

MDA sponsors bowl-a-thons, golf tournaments and hop-a-thons to earn month, and firefighters sponsor softball tournaments for the benefit of MD victims. Lock-ups are meaningful, worthwhile and fun. Thank you, Joan.

Firefighters share variety of recipes

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Managing Editor

Former New York firefighter Louis DePasquale, along with Candace DeBarr, co-authored The National Firefighters Recipe Book as a fundraising venture for firefighting projects and burn victims. A portion of the proceeds have been designated for the Phoenix Society for Burn Survivors, Inc.

The more than 200 recipes included in the book feature breakfast treats, appetizers and sauces, salads, soups, burgers and pizza, pasta favorites, entrees, one-dish meals, seafood specialties and desserts plus special occasion meals—all of which are as well suited for the home kitchen as for the fire hall.

The recipe book is a collection of firefighters' recipes and anecdotes from all 50 states, along with fire safety tips. The book can be ordered by sending $15 plus $3 shipping and handling to All Hands Publications, 2640 E. Virginia Ave., Phoenix, Ariz. 85008.

From Columbia, Tenn., fire inspector Jim Swindle submitted a recipe for Firehouse Baked Beans, which he claims are best when served with barbecued dishes or grilled foods.

Firehouse Baked Beans
4 (14 oz.) cans pork and beans
1 (15 oz.) can tomatoes
2 Tbsp. mustard
2 Tbsp. catsup
1 large onion, chopped
1 large bell pepper, chopped
1 Tbsp. soy sauce
1 Tbsp. salt
1/4 cup corn syrup
1 Tbsp Worcestershire sauce
6 slices bacon, cooked but not crispy

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Mix all ingredients except bacon in baking dish, then cover with bacon slices. Bake uncovered one hour. Feeds 8 hungry firefighters.

Where else but Gulfport, Miss., would a fantastic recipe for Mississippi Shrimp Creole come from? Firefighter Dean Morrow recommends that those who don't want to set their digestive systems on fire, cut back on the cayenne pepper and limit the tabasco sauce.

Mississippi Shrimp Creole
1 pound boiled shrimp
1 cup onion, chopped
1 cup green peppers, chopped
1 cup celery, chopped
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cayenne pepper
1 quart fresh tomatoes, chopped
2 Tbsp. bacon drippings
Boiled rice
Tabasco and Worcestershire sauce to taste

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Shell and de-vein shrimp and cut in half. Saute shrimp, onion, peppers and celery in bacon drippings. Add all other ingredients except tomatoes and rice. Place in 2-1/2 quart dish and top with chopped tomatoes. Bake 20 minutes and serve over cooked rice.

Firefighter Glen Haws of the Burbank Fire Department

Lt. Dan Wilson of the Van Buren Township Fire Department checks the recipes in the National Firefighters' Recipe Book for tips. Firefighters from all 50 states contributed their best recipes for the book. MCN photo by Ken Garner

Home schooling teaches cooking skills

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

They've learned just about everything they know right in their own home, so it's no wonder that the Gonzales brothers of Westland were also home-schooled in cooking.

Mark, 11, Paul, 13, David, 15, and Frank, 17, of Westland have never set foot in a classroom, but then again it wasn't really necessary since their mother, Marie Gonzales, decided to teach her children at home.

"They've always been at home. I feel they learn a lot more and I feel we relate better because we get to spend time together," Marie Gonzales said.

Along with learning the basics of reading, writing and arithmetic, the boys have learned how to prepare breakfasts and lunches for themselves and even help with chores around the home, including vacuuming, laundry and doing the dishes.

Interested in trying new things, the Gonzales family keep their eyes open for new and exciting baked goods recipes and especially enjoy making cookies. The siblings also learned some recipes from their grandmother.

Some of these cookies include Peanut Butter Blossoms, Snicker Doodles, Monster Cookies, Pineapple Drops, and, of course, Chocolate Chip.

"They're fun to make and we like to eat them," David Gonzales said.

The youths have also tried their hands at cakes. Two of their favorites to make are applesauce cake and a triple-layer Cello cake.

But the boys make more than homemade desserts, they also enjoy making crepes, suzettes, pizza, potato soup, spaghetti, enchiladas, pancakes, homemade waffles and scones, a Scottish bread.

Marie Gonzales received instruction assistance from the Clonlara School in Ann Arbor which provides parents who teach their children at home with the appropriate textbooks and curriculum.

Here eldest child, Frank Gonzales, will be graduating from home schooling this year, and plans to attend Schoolcraft Community College.

Hoop realities

Race for Mega Conference Red title will be wide open, basketball coaches predict

By TOM MOORADIAN
 MCN Staff Writer

Look for a dogfight for the Mega Conference Red Division basketball title this year.

Don't look to Wayne Memorial or Belleville to dominate. That's the message from two veteran coaches, whose teams have been atop of the former Wolverine "A" and Red Division standings in the past.

A "sloppy starts" by Wayne and Belleville isn't going to change Wayne Memorial coach Chuck Henry or Belleville's Michael Garland's minds.

When the heat is turned on in the Mega Conference Red Division, everybody is going to sweat it out.

That's the hoop reality of the 1994-95 campaign.

The two rival coaches point to the return of a senior lineup at Monroe, an improved Dearborn Fordson, a Garden City team that is peppered with seasoned players, and their two respective teams for the reasons for their predictions.

"There is a lot of balance this year in the league," said Henry, after his Zebras split their first two non-conference tilts. "No one is going to dominate it this year."

Garland, whose Tigers did dominate the conference a year ago and had amassed a 19-3 record before falling in the state quarterfinals, agrees. "Monroe has a lot of their kids back," Garland said. "It would surprise me if they didn't make their move. Wayne and Fordson always have to be considered because they are so well coached."

"As we get experience, we will improve. And we will be there."

Belleville survived first-night jitters and Detroit Chadsey in its opener, winning a 60-41 decision in a game that went scoreless for the first three minutes.

Once All-State gridders, Chris Cannon got the Tigers started, they took their cue and led all the way, moving to a 11-6 edge after the first eight minutes and maintaining a five-point cushion the rest of the way.

Cannon picked up where he left off in football as the versatile athlete pumped in 11 points to lead the Tigers.

Belleville increased the bulge to 27-17 halftime, then outscored their visitors 15-11 and 18-13 in the final two periods.

Cannon, the only player to hit in double figures, and teammate Erik Szyndlar, a 6-7 senior center, were the keys in this opening game victory.

Belleville will open the division phase of the season on Friday at Woodhaven. The Tigers are also scheduled to play in the Benton Harbor Holiday Invitational where they will meet the host on Dec. 27 in the nightcap of two games. Detroit Cass Tech will clash with Detroit Denby in the opener. The two winners will play for the tournament title the following night.

In the meantime, Wayne spoiled the coaching debut of Dan Young, who took over from Dave Van Wagoner at Plymouth-Canton.

With sophomore Lorenzo Guess tapping in a missed shot with one second left in the game, Wayne broke a 52-all tie and handed the Chiefs a 54-52 setback in the opener.

It was Guess's jumper that tied the game with 27 seconds remaining.

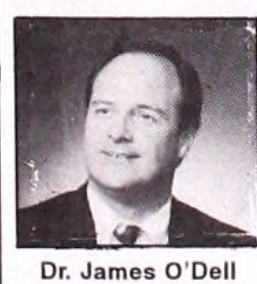

Canton led 19-15 after the first eight minutes and stayed in front until the final minute. The Chiefs, behind Ted Docks and Ron Hunter's aggressive performances, enjoyed a 33-28 advantage at halftime. Hunter sank nine of his game high 21 points in the first period.

Quote of the Week

"It's large, it's furry and it's dead!"

Romulus City Council member William Wadsworth commented after being handed a bag containing a dead rodent found outside a home near Hale Creek Elementary School in Romulus. Area residents have been complaining about rats, large spiders and potholes in recent years.

Of Note

2 injured in car crash

A Westland woman, 31, and a Canton man, 34, were injured in a car crash which involved a 1995 Firebird and a tree.

The Westland woman was driving the vehicle with the Canton man in the passenger seat at approximately 10:08 p.m. Dec. 14 in Wayne. They were traveling eastbound on Michigan Avenue just east of the viaduct. When the car reached under the viaduct, the driver lost control of the vehicle and it went into a spin, according to Wayne Police Chief John Colligan.

"The car jumped the curb and crashed into a tree," Colligan said. "The passenger side received the greatest impact so the 'jaws of life' had to be used to rescue the Canton man."

The Canton man was taken to Annapolis Hospital and transported by helicopter to the University of Michigan Hospital where he is in serious condition.

The Westland woman was also taken to Annapolis Hospital for treatment and was later sent to the University of Michigan Hospital.

The cause of the accident is unknown at this time. Wayne police would appreciate anyone who witnessed the accident to contact the Wayne Police Department at 721-1414.

Romulus man dies in car accident

A fatal car accident claimed the life of a 32-year-old Romulus man Dec. 15 in Wayne.

A vehicle traveling southbound on Wayne Road at a high rate of speed 9:53 p.m. slammed into a Ford Taurus which was driven by a Plymouth resident who was heading eastbound on Michigan Ave., according to Wayne police Lt. Dan Randall.

"The vehicle traveling at a high rate of speed was driven by a Romulus resident," Randall said. "He was driving a Pontiac Lemans. He went around two other vehicles before hitting the other car."

The Romulus man was accompanied by two other passengers, and the individual who died in the accident was his brother, according to Randall.

"The individual died due to the impact of the crash," Randall said. "The Romulus man and other passenger who is from Westland along with the driver of the other car were all transported to Annapolis Hospital."

As of presstime all three area residents were in fair condition. Randall said the Romulus driver is expected to be charged as a result of the accident. The incident is still under investigation.

6 break-ins reported

Following six break-ins at Jefferson Elementary School in Westland, Wayne-Westland school officials are working on a plan to deter further criminal activity at the school, according to Gary Dell, assistant to the superintendent of schools.

The alleged offender enters the building by breaking classroom windows in a section of the school not easy visible to the public, Dell said.

Body found Westland police probe murder of Inkster man

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

A homicide investigation is being conducted by Westland police following the discovery of an Inkster man found shot to death behind Annapolis Hospital West located at 2345 S. Merriam Road in Westland.

The body of William Horace Ford, 33, was found at approximately 11:30 p.m. Wednesday by four local teenagers on vacant property owned by Wayne County, according to Westland police Sgt. Thomas Kubitskey.

Kubitskey said the victim was not a patient of the hospital and had identification on him when he was found.

The victim was last seen making a purchase at Burger King restaurant, 33540 Michigan Avenue in Wayne, around 7:30 p.m., Kubitskey said.

Police had no suspects at presstime and have not ruled out any motives.

Preliminary forensic results indicate that the victim died within two hours of the discovery of his body, according to Kubitskey.

Police are now searching for the victim's missing car that he was last seen driving that evening. The car is described as a 1980 Cadillac Eldorado with black vinyl over gray and a license plate number of HYS562.

Anyone with information regarding the shooting or location of the car should call the Westland police Detective Bureau at 721-6311.

Battle for life Family hosts benefit to save their son, 15

By GRETCHEN MADICK
MCN Special Writer

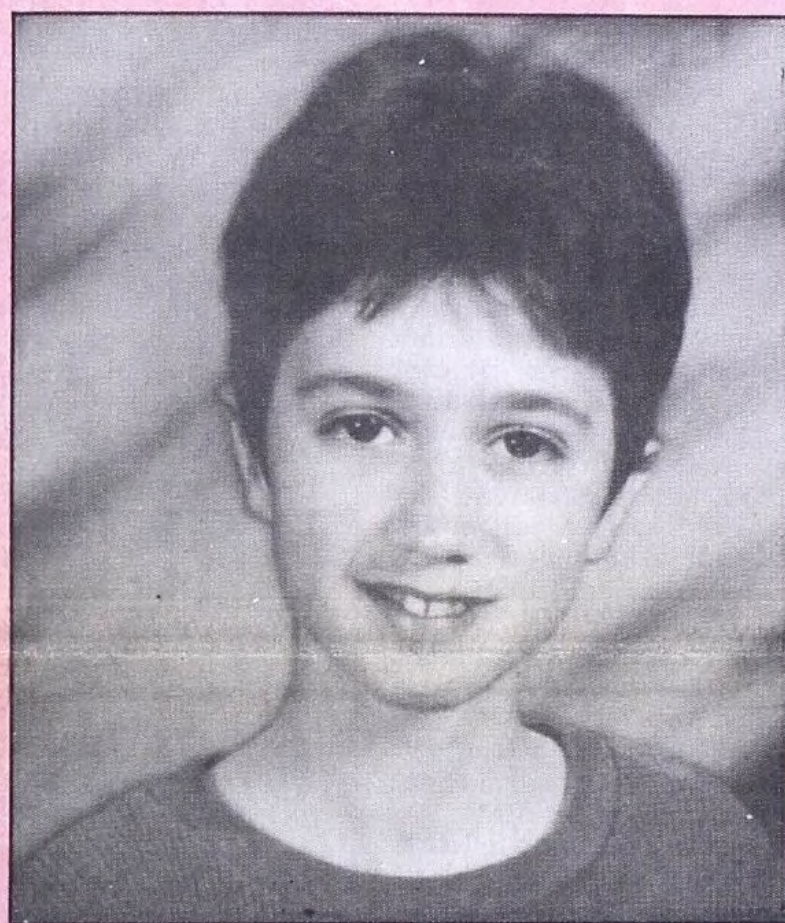

With his son battling a life-threatening disease, a Canton Township father is hoping that a crucial operation will give the youth "another chance at life."

Fifteen-year-old Canton resident Greg Unger, who attends Wayne-Westland schools, and his parents, Barbara and Bill, have a charitable cause this Christmas season that extends well into 1995.

Two-hundred and fifty canisters are in place and 140 remain to be distributed to support the family's drive to secure the $100,000, needed to provide Greg with a double lung transplant, a necessity to maintain his life beyond 18 months in the face of genetic, terminal, cystic fibrosis. Once the surgery is complete, an additional $30-40,000 per year may be required to meet medical expenses.

Greg, who was diagnosed at six months of age, is managing to attend classes, despite the fact that less than one lung is operational. The Unger family has set July as their tentative date to relocate in St. Louis, Mo., the premiere treatment center for double lung transplants. "His lungs are failing now," Bill Unger said. "If his health deteriorates, we would go now. Greg medicates with an aerosol antibiotic and a procedure called clapping, where his chest is patted with a cupped hand in 12 positions two or three times a day to clear the lung."

"A double transplant is relatively new," Unger explained. "Three centers in the U.S. do them and the practice is only three years old." Locally, the University of Michigan just accepted its second duo transplant patient. St. Louis was chosen for their high success rate.

Teen, 17, charged in armed robbery

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

An Inkster teen probably will never forget the Christmas of 1994. He will have to spend the holidays behind bars or come up with $35,000 in cash for a bond.

Richard Rowe, 17, is accused of armed robbery, and using a gun in the commission of a felony. He is cooling his heels in the city jail after losing a chase with an alert Inkster police officer and a pair of Wayne County deputies.

Rowe appeared Thursday morning before Judge Sylvia James, 22nd District Court to felony firearm and armed robbery charges. He stood mute and was directed by Judge James up with the bond money or be retained in the jail until a preliminary examination could be conducted on the charges.

Rowe failed to post the bond. His examination is scheduled for 9 a.m. on Dec. 28.

Rowe is believed to be the gunman who robbed a Livonia man that was sitting in his vehicle at The Station, a local business on Michigan Avenue.

The victim, whose name was not released to the media, told police that a gunman walked up to him as he was sitting in his car and placed a revolver to his head. The robber then ordered the man to hand over his wallet. He did.

Then the gunman apparently spotted a pair of gold rings on the victim's fingers, and also demanded that they be handed over.

As the robber fled the scene, the victim leaped from his vehicle and telephoned the Inkster police station. While on patrol in the Michigan Avenue and Bayham Street area, Patrolman Brian Braunschneider spotted a subject who filled the description of the man that pulled off the robbery. The Inkster police officer was about to stop his car to question the suspect when the subject bolted from the scene.

Braunschneider pursued, and the foot chase led to the railroad tracks where two county deputies had cut off the suspect. The suspect, later identified as Rowe, gave up without further incident.

Rowe was taken into police custody and arraigned on armed robbery charges.

"That was a nice bit of police work by the officer and the deputies," said Inkster Detective Gary Lorenzen.

Sanitation authority seeks partner to share incinerator operating costs

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Forced to implement a $10 million upgrading of the present facility, representatives of the five-member communities of the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority have apparently decided on an alternative - finding a partner to share in the costs of operating the incinerator.

The CWCSA board of directors has forwarded to the mayors and city councils of member communities a proposal from a Baltimore, Md., corporation who has offered to turn "waste-to-energy" that would keep the present incinerator in operation and preserve about 24 jobs, create some 200 new jobs and return to the communities a portion of the funds that the corporation would realize from the sale of the energy to Detroit Edison.

The representatives are reluctant to discuss the proposal until the city councils have been informed and have an opportunity to question their representatives, according to James Collieran, a member of the Inkster City Council who is a vice chairman of the CWCSA.

Collieran said that CWCSA board has conducted meetings with representatives of BFI and Central Wayne Energy Recovery - the two major bidders and corporations that are seeking partnerships with the Authority, but he said it would be improper for him to discuss the proposals until mayors and city council members of member communities "had their say."

The proposed waste-to-energy proposal is unique in that it is a "partnership between public and private bodies," Collieran stressed.

The public entities include the five-member cities that make up the authority: Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Dearborn Heights and Garden City; the private entity is Central Wayne Energy Recovery, which is made up of affiliates of Constellation Energy, Inc., a subsidiary of Baltimore Gas & Electric which is headquartered in Baltimore, Maryland.

Collieran did reveal that at a recent CWCSA board meeting conducted Dec. 8, the board had approved a motion to proceed with the energy recovery project. Sometime this week, the councils will decide whether they want to enter into an agreement with Central Wayne Energy Recovery Corp.

"When you figure that the costs to upgrade the present system with what the state wants, and that's a scrubbing chambers and a bag house is approximately $10 million..."

James Collieran

The Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority was established in 1958 to evaluate and find solutions to disposing of trash and debris in the communities of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Dearborn Heights and Garden City.

At that time, the cities decided to dispose of the solid waste generated in their cities through incineration and, via a tax levy, raised funds to construct a plant located at 4901 S. Inkster Road, Dearborn Heights.

Each of the cities is represented on the CWCSA board of directors.

Members of the Authority selected incineration of solid waste in order to reduce reliance on landfills, which have been charging prime rates in recent years. The residue from the incineration from two 250-ton per day furnaces is taken to a landfill owned by the Authority and located in Huron Township.

However, CWCSA officials said that newly-adopted amendments to the Clean Air Act of 1990 necessitated an upgrade of the Air Pollution Control equipment at the incinerator facility which would force the board to either go to the taxpayers for additional funds, shut down in a year, or find a "partner that would help resolve the problem."

"When you figure that the costs to upgrade the present system with what the state wants, and that's a scrubbing chambers and a bag house is approximately $10 million which would force us to raise the tipping fees by another $15 or more to about $75 per ton by 1997," stressed Collieran, "there is no other way out for us."

"To survive we must find alternatives and I believe we are on the right path," Collieran added.

Help me!

Kids plead for relief from violence, drugs in neighborhoods

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

"Help me," is the plea from a fourth-grade pupil who is sick and tired of violence and drugs in his neighborhood.

The plea was among a score of letters that Inkster Crime Prevention officer Rocky Beydoun received after classroom discussions in Inkster elementary schools.

The letter-writer, a 10-year-old pupil, wrote about a neighborhood where drugs and guns are commonplace, where "you can hear gun shots any time, and you can see crack dealers and drugs being sold."

"It hurts to read letters like this. These kids are being robbed of their youth," Beydoun said. "When I am in the classroom, you can see the fear in their eyes. They know from real-life experiences of guns and drugs. And I am there trying to help them understand that they must stay away from the deadly combination."

As a crime prevention officer, Beydoun has met with pupils in the classrooms to discuss guns - toy and real - and how they can kill.

"I recently asked a classroom of fourth-graders if they have ever seen someone get shot or if a family member had ever been shot, and almost everyone in that classroom raised their hands."

"I also asked them if any of them could get their hands on guns or know of someone who had a gun, and would you believe that these kids who are only nine and 10 that it would be no problem getting guns."

Beydoun is in the classrooms these days at Baylor-Woodson Elementary in Inkster that guns and kids don't find each other. His message is a simple one: Guns and kids don't mix.

"If the parents would only get rid of their guns, we would have fewer fatal gun accidents. But I don't think we're ready to give up."

Inkster Crime Prevention
Officer Ricky Beydoun

The children are listening, he says. And the message hopefully will also get home to the parents.

"If the parents would only get rid of their guns, we would have fewer fatal gun accidents," he says.

With guns, drugs and violence so prevalent on the streets and the homes of America, and with so much violence on our television and movie screens, aren't the odds stacked against the kids?

"It seems to be, doesn't it? But I don't think we're ready to give up. I'm not," Beydoun says. "I have a family and two children. I don't want them to live in fear of the streets. And I want our home to be safe for them. If we work together on this, I feel that we can make a difference."

Born in Sierra Leone, near Liberia in west Africa, Beydoun immigrated to the United States with his family as a child. He was raised in Dearborn and attended the Dearborn Public Schools. He is presently attending Henry Ford Community College.

He chose law enforcement as a profession because "helping people comes naturally with me. I have been a crime prevention officer for two years now and I most definitely like what I am doing."

As a member of the Crime Prevention Department, the 190-pound reserve police officer has worked undercover in various "sting" operations targeting prostitution. He also has served as a firearms officer, range officer and assisted in the narcotics division.

Beydoun says education is the key and solution to most of the problems society is having. Violence on television "definitely has contributed to the problem and has had an adverse affect on our children."

"I know most of us have heard or read of a copycat incidence where children carried out in real life the violence they saw on screen. We have to put a stop to this."

"We must get it across to them that real guns and even toy guns can kill?"

Toy guns, too?

"Yes, if you're pointing a toy gun at someone who doesn't know that it's a toy, what do you think is going to happen? If it looks like a gun and it's pointed at the wrong person, someone may wind up dead."

One of the projects Beydoun promotes in the classroom is for children to write about their experiences with guns in the home or neighborhood and talking about those problems in the classroom.

"One student wrote: I live on Annapolis Street. We are tired of the shooting and killing and drugs in my neighborhood. There are a lot of drug selling taking place. My family isn't safe any more. We need to get it cleaned up."

"If this was your child, what would you do?" Beydoun asks. "If parents would only listen and heed what their kids are trying to tell them."

Beydoun says that the contents of the letters he receives keeps him going and convinces him that he has selected the right profession.

"I want to help these kids. There is hope when we are able to talk and discuss these matters with them. And, yes, these youngsters can make a difference just like you and I can."

Although he spent his early years in west Africa where Arabic was the native language, Beydoun is fluent in both English and Arabic, which he used during a recent "sting operation" when police arrested two Arabic-speaking suspects who denied that they knew any English.

"The suspects spoke Arabic and I listened to what they had to say. After they finished their conversation, I told them in Arabic that they were 'under arrest.' You should have seen their faces."

When it comes to children and guns, Beydoun says, "in all languages, it is imperative that children understand that guns and kids don't mix."

A copy of a Plante & Moran analysis of the major proposals submitted to the Authority by CEI, a subsidiary of Baltimore Gas and Electric Co., who has been negotiating a Waste-to-Energy conversion of the plant, and the BFI, a waste management company, indicated the nationally-recognized auditing firm clearly favored the Waste-to-energy option over the BFI base bid.

On Nov. 30 of this year, representatives of Plante & Moran presented the results of the study to the members of the CWCSA and to the finance officers of the five cities.

After reviewing the bid proposals, Plante & Moran concluded that the "...BFI's bid on the monofill was considered to be not well defined and too speculative."

Subsequently, the auditing firm also concluded that the waste-to-energy proposal has substantial merits.

"The Partnership's base bid as submitted was evaluated as the Waste-To Energy alternative...Even without taking into account all of the adjustments indicated in the Partnership's letter, the Plante & Moran study confirms the Authority's earlier recommendation: the Waste-to-Energy is clearly more attractive than the BFI base bid."

If the cities agree, taxpayers may find a small reduction in their tax bills. Each of the member communities levy a mill or less to pay for the operation of the landfill.

In a press release issued by Tom Barnett, manager of the energy recovery project, Barnett stated that "the Plante & Moran study, and subsequent clarifications of data, are an independent verification of the proposal, which has been under development for more than four years. During that time, the energy recovery project was viewed favored by the CWCSA as the most economical and environmentally sound long-term plan for solid waste disposal."

"Clearly, this project is the most beneficial for the participating communities," Barnett added. "This project represents a long-term commitment on the Part of Central Wayne Energy Recovery and we are looking forward to a long and mutually beneficial relationship with the Authority."

Barnett also revealed that the "project will include an estimated $14 million in state-of-art pollution control costs paid by the partnership, costs which otherwise would be paid by the participating communities. The new equipment will include an acid-gas scrubber and a fabric bag house to remove particulates."

During council sessions, council members have been informed that the sale of the electricity generated at the plant will be sold to the Detroit Edison Company. A contract between Edison and Central Wayne has already been signed.

Earlier this year Barnett and his corporate officials met with council and the mayors of the member cities and answered questions.

Among some of the benefits, officials have pointed out, are a score of new jobs. More than 200 union construction jobs will be created over the project's two-year construction period.

Candy's out

Women look for clothes, jewelry under tree

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

Christmas wishes for local Westland women consisted of workout clothing, perfumes and jewelry, but what they didn't want was food -- namely chocolates or other calorie adding candies.

"Staying in shape and being healthy is important to me, so I've asked for a new pair of Reeboks and some new work out clothes for the gym," Westland resident Debbie Berner said.

Berner's list is not totally focused on fitness. She would also like to treat herself with a gift certificate to Victoria's Secret and perfume.

Wayne-Westland Chief Fiscal Officer Patricia Brand would have to agree.

"I like jewelry, clothes and perfume and any sports related clothing and equipment," Brand said, adding that she enjoys water skiing, running and baseball.

What she doesn't want is any clothing that "makes me look fat" or "old lady blouses."

But most of all, Brand does not want any food items for Christmas, especially not candy.

Westland Community Access Television Station Manager Diane Abbott doesn't want anything domestic. The items she referred to include pots and pans, cooking ware and a vacuum cleaner.

"Housewares are definitely not hot on my list," Abbott said.

What she would like to see adorning her Christmas tree would be some jewelry, a personal holiday favorite of hers. But the best gift Abbott expects to receive this Christmas season is her first grandchild.

Local department store hot sellers differed from these wishes in some areas.

Kohl's Department stores are selling a lot of flannel and fleece wear for women this season.

"The outdoor look for women in shoes, tops and bottoms is in this year," said Don Oscarson, senior vice president of marketing for Kohl's.

Novelty tops are also a popular seller with fleece top designs and decorative sweaters.

Other items doing extremely well this season include bread makers and wallets on a string, a purse style wallet worn over the shoulder.

The top seller for women at Hudson's this year is velvet wraps, which are worn over formal evening gowns, according to Karen Thimsen, public relations coordinator for Hudson's. The wraps are lined with satin on the interior for silky comfort and come in several different colors. These beautiful accessories range from $20 to $44.

Microwaveable ear muffs are another big seller this season. Just pop them in the microwave for a few seconds and they keep you warm for hours.

"They're selling like crazy. It's perfect for outdoor activities such as skating and skiing," Thimsen said.

Other items in the microwaveable line include seat pads, which come in handy at winter football and hockey matches, bread baskets, which heat the bread up to four hours, and neck warmers which can also be used as cold packs to help stiff and sore necks. All microwaveable warmers range from $10 to $30.

Santa Bear is celebrating his 10-year anniversary this Christmas and the furry creature is selling like fruitcakes.

An ever popular item, fragrances, can be found in beautiful gift packages which include sample perfumes and body lotions. White Diamonds and Estee Lauder's perfume sample package, which includes the popular seller Beautiful, are hot sellers this season ranging from $25 to $42.

Teens have definite likes, dislikes

If shopping for teenagers at Christmas causes the blues, take heart. Canton teens are offering suggestions of "what's hot and what's not" for gift giving.

Ideas differ depending on age and interests, but some constants reappear as they express their preferences.

At the entrance end of the teenage years Kathy Wu wants certain toys definitely left off her list - Barbie dolls, Cabbage Patch kids and miniature dolls are no longer of interest. Hot items for Kathy include a cassette disc (CD) player, keyboard, telephone or a telephone.

Greg Wu, Kathy's brother, a graduate this spring, said, "I'm not into the whole Christmas thing. So, I couldn't tell you.

He did remark, however, that he has observed other teens wanting discman players, CDs, clothes and personal electronic devices, including little accessories for a car, for example. Greg will be disappointed if he gets anything like underwear and socks.

Mike Franks, still barely registered among the teens, is requesting a brief case and a boxed set of Pink Floyd CDs. Franks wouldn't mind getting clothes or a pool stick. As Franks thinks about his recent car troubles, he states boldly, "No Festiva!"

He's also sick of watches that he gets every year that break in the middle of the year and surely wouldn't want a bowling ball.

Tony D'Angelo, employed in the restaurant business, wants a nice Kitchen Aid food processor, but not a coffee maker.

"I hate coffee," he says.

Hot items for Michelle Jacques who graduates from Canton this spring include her own phone line and clothes. She'd prefer not to get shoes.

Janet and Julie Paskiewicz, twins at Canton, have some wishes in common. Both would like a trip to Florida and money. Julie includes clothes, CDs and gloves on her list, while Janet's dream would be a Gameboy, jewelry, a book and a red Mustang. Julie would like a stereo and clothing. Their "Not Hot" list includes board games, puzzles, school supplies, belts, tapes and a purse. Brad Paskievitch, their older brother, wants a bow and arrow or hunting supplies and clothes highlight his "Not Hot" list.

A car would be the hot gift for Robin Hutsko, along with a telephone line.

In the Springer family, Julie and John agree - not books! Julie says hot items include a CD player and clothes, while John would register a new stereo on the hot list. Kevin Springer is particular about the hot type of clothing to buy. Flannels are always good, but not sweaters, he says.

Tony Hazard hasn't given much thought to his hot or not hot items, but he has observed the girls.

"The girls are really into lotions at the body shop," Hazard says.

Personalized sweatshirts and jackets are replacing ties for dads this holiday season, a check with retail stores has revealed.

A spokesman for Jack's Sport Center of Wayne reveals that holiday shoppers are having names and sometimes silk screen images of dad's favorite sport or hobby emblazoned on plain colored shirts, hats and jackets.

MAC Sporting Goods in Westland results show that Grant Hill jerseys are growing in popularity this holiday season, as well as the fashionable sweater bearing dad's favorite professional or college team.

A manager at the Sports Authority in Livonia reveals "there is no superstar among gifts like there was a few years ago, when roller blades were in craze."

This year dad's gift is much more individualized.

"I've been selling hunting guns, ping pong tables and even punching bags," the manager said.

Terry Hermenau, a broker with Future Real Estate of Romulus, joked "What do I want, obviously a new car, mine just died."

Romulus City Councilman Randy Gear, who was married just recently, said he would most appreciate a new home computer system.

Lt. Ken Kraus of the Romulus Detective Bureau, said he is willing to pass up holiday gifts. "Just watching the expressions on my grandkids faces is enough for me today!"

Romulus Fire Chief William Greenslaid said he is just wishing for more professional help for his firefighters in the line of life saving equipment.

2. The period of usefulness of the Improvements is estimated to be not less than twenty (20) years.
3. The City Council hereby determines to borrow the sum of Two Million Three Hundred Seventy Five Thousand Dollars ($2,375,000) and issue bonds of the City therefor pursuant to the provisions of Act 175 (the "Bonds"), for the purpose of providing funds to pay part of the cost of the Improvements on behalf of and for the benefit of the Authority pursuant to the Plan and Act 450.
4. 2004	105,000	2014	210,000

In the event the City Manager reduces the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds as authorized herein, the City Manager shall reduce any of the foregoing maturities in order to effectuate a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds.

The Bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates to be determined on sale, which rate or rates however shall not exceed nine percent (9%) per annum. The Bonds will be subject to redemption and be payable in the manner set forth in paragraph 9 hereof; provided, however, the City Manager is hereby authorized to (a) modify the redemption provisions in order to effectuate sale to the MMBA provided the premium on the earliest redemption does not exceed 3% or (b) to delete the redemption provisions from the Bonds.

5. The Bonds shall be executed in the name of the City with the manual or facsimile signatures of the Mayor and the City Clerk and shall bear the actual or a facsimile of the City seal. As hereinafter described, the Bonds will be initially sold to the MMBA. If MMBA transfers the Bonds, the City shall cause replacement bonds to be printed, authenticated and delivered to the transferee thereof in accordance with instructions from the City Treasurer and such Bonds shall be executed with the facsimile or manual signatures of the Mayor and the Clerk and the seal of the City shall be impressed or imprinted thereon. Executed blank bonds for registration and issuance to transferees shall simultaneously, and from time to time thereafter as necessary, be delivered to the transfer agent for safekeeping. No Bond of this series which is signed by the facsimile signature of the Mayor and Clerk shall be valid until authenticated by an authorized signature of the transfer agent designated by the City Treasurer.

6. Any Bond may be transferred upon the books required to be kept pursuant to this section by the person in whose name it is registered, in person or by the registered owner's duly authorized attorney, upon surrender of the Bond for cancellation, accompanied by delivery of a duly executed written instrument of transfer in a form approved by the transfer agent. Whenever any Bond or Bonds shall be surrendered for transfer, the City shall execute and the transfer agent shall authenticate and deliver a new Bond or Bonds, in like aggregate principal amount. The transfer agent shall require the payment by the bondholder requesting the transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to the transfer. The date of determination of the registered owner for purposes of payment of interest as provided in this resolution may be changed by the City to conform to market practice in the future. The principal of the Bonds shall be payable at the office of the transfer agent designated by the transfer agent except as provided in the form of Bonds. If and so long as the Bonds are held by the MMBA, (a) the City Clerk shall perform the notification, bond registration and transfer functions of the transfer agent for such bonds held by the MMBA and (b) provisions relating to transfer of the Bonds may be added to or deleted from the forms of Bonds as necessary; otherwise, the City Clerk shall perform, or designate a transfer agent to perform, the above described functions and add transfer agent provisions to the Bonds.

Except as otherwise provided in the Bond form and unless waived by any registered owner of Bonds to be redeemed, official notice of redemption shall be given by the transfer agent on behalf of the Authority. Such notice shall be dated and shall contain at a minimum the following information: original issue date; maturity dates; interest rates; CUSIP numbers, if any; certificate numbers (and in the case of partial redemption) the called amounts of each certificate; the place where Bonds called for redemption are to be surrendered for payment; and that interest on Bonds or portions thereof called for redemption shall cease to accrue from and after the redemption date.

In addition, further notice shall be given by the transfer agent in such manner as may be required or suggested by regulations or market practice at the applicable time, but no defect in such further notice nor any failure to give all or any portion of such further notice shall in any manner defeat the effectiveness of a call for redemption if notice thereof is given as prescribed herein.

7. To provide moneys to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds and in accordance with the provisions of Act 175, there is hereby made an irrevocable appropriation of the amount necessary to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds from the moneys to be derived from State-collected taxes returned to the City for highway purposes, pursuant to law. The Bonds are of equal standing with other bonds issued by the City payable from said state-collected taxes, and the City may issue additional bonds payable from said state-collected taxes within the limitations prescribed by law.

The City Treasurer is directed, each year that any of the principal of and interest on the Bonds remains unpaid, to set aside in a separate depository account, to be designated 1994 MICHIGAN TRANSPORTATION FUND BONDS DEBT RETIREMENT FUND, sufficient moneys from revenues received during such year from the Michigan Transportation Fund pursuant to law to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds next maturing. Accrued interest, if any, and premium, if any, on initial sale of the Bonds shall be deposited into the 1994 Michigan Transportation Fund Bonds Debt Retirement Fund. The Treasurer is further directed to open a separate depository account, to be designated 1994 MICHIGAN TRANSPORTATION FUND BONDS CONSTRUCTION FUND into which the proceeds of the Bonds, less accrued interest and premium, if any, shall be deposited, which account shall be used to pay the costs of constructing the Improvements. Except to pay costs of issuance, in no event shall any amounts be expended from the Construction Fund to pay for the Improvements until the Authority has acknowledged and confirmed its obligation to reimburse the City for those costs of the Bonds and for any amounts hereafter advanced by the City to pay debt service on the TIFA Bonds, as described in Paragraph 8. Proceeds remaining after completion of the Improvements shall be applied as permitted by law.

8. Pursuant to Act 175, and as additional security for the prompt payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds, there is hereby irrevocably pledged the limited tax full faith and credit of the City, and in the event of insufficiency of funds primarily pledged to the payment thereof, the City covenants and agrees to provide for such insufficiency from such resources as are lawfully available to it, including Tax Increment Revenues to be received from the Authority as described below.

The City is issuing the Bonds in reliance upon an obligation of the Authority to reimburse the City from Tax Increment Revenues (i) for the entire costs of the Bonds, including debt service and costs of issuance, and (ii) for any amounts advanced by the City to pay debt service on the TIFA Bonds pursuant to the City's limited tax full faith and credit pledge securing the payment thereof. The City anticipates that in each year hereafter, any Tax Increment Revenues legally available and in excess of amounts which are required to pay the then current debt service on the TIFA Bonds, if any, shall be paid to the City by the Authority until the Authority has fully reimbursed the City for the costs of the Bonds and any amounts advanced by the City to debt service on the TIFA Bonds.

9. The Bonds shall be in substantially the following form subject to such changes as to ministerial form as may be reasonably requested by the transfer agent and further subject to (i) changes permitted by Section 6 of this resolution upon transfer from the MMBA and (ii) such other changes as shall be required to effectuate sale to MMBA provided such changes are not prohibited by the terms of this resolution:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF MICHIGAN
COUNTY OF WAYNE
CITY OF INKSTER
MICHIGAN TRANSPORTATION FUND BOND

Interest Rate	Maturity Date	Date of Original Issue
Registered Owner: Michigan Municipal Bond Authority
Principal Amount:		Dollars

The City of Inkster, County of Wayne, State of Michigan (the "City"), for value received, hereby promises to pay to the Registered Owner specified above, or registered assigns, the Principal Amount specified above, in lawful money of the United States of America, on the Maturity Date specified above, unless prepaid prior thereto as hereinafter provided, with interest thereon from the Date of Original Issue or such later date to which interest has been paid, until paid, at the Interest Rate per annum specified above, first payable on August 1, 1995 and semiannually thereafter. Notwithstanding any other provision of this bond, so long as the Michigan Municipal Bond Authority (the "MMBA") is the owner of this bond, (a) this bond is payable as to principal, premium, if any, and interest at the principal corporate trust office of First of America Bank-Southeast Michigan, N.A., Birmingham, Michigan, or at such other place as shall be designated in writing to the City by the MMBA (the "MMBA's Depository"); (b) the City agrees that it will deposit with the MMBA's Depository payments of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on this bond in immediately available funds at least five business days prior to the date on which any such payment is due whether by maturity, redemption or otherwise; (c) written notice of any redemption of this bond shall be given by the City and received by the MMBA's Depository at least 40 days prior to the date on which such redemption is made. This bond is one of a series of bonds of even Date of Original Issue aggregating the principal sum of $2,375,000, issued for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of street improvements in the City in accordance with a resolution duly and regularly adopted by the City Council of the City on December 12, 1994 and pursuant to the provisions of Act 175, Public Acts of Michigan, 1952, as amended.

The bonds of this issue are subject to optional redemption in whole or in part in such order as the City shall determine, in integral multiples of $5,000 on any date permitted by law on or after August 1, 2004 at the following redemption prices (expressed as percentages of their principal amounts), plus accrued interest to the redemption date:

Period During Which Redeemed	Redemption Price

August 1, 2005 to July 31, 2006, inclusive	101
August 1, 2006 and thereafter	100

Except as provided above, notice of redemption shall be given to the registered owners of bonds or portions thereof called for redemption by mailing of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption to the registered addresses of the registered owners of record. Bonds shall be called for redemption in multiples of $5,000 and bonds of denominations of more than $5,000 shall be treated as representing the number of bonds obtained by dividing the denomination of the bond by $5,000, and such bonds may be redeemed in part. Bonds or portions thereof so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided the City has money available for redemption.

In case less than the full amount of an outstanding bond is called for redemption, the transfer agent described in the above described resolution, upon presentation to it of the bond called for redemption, shall register, authenticate and deliver to the registered owner of record a new bond in the principal amount of the portion of the original bond not called for redemption.

This bond and the interest thereon are payable from the proceeds of State-collected taxes returned to the City for highway purposes pursuant to law, or in case of insufficiency of said funds, out of the general funds of the City, including collections of ad valorem taxes on all taxable property in the City which the City may be authorized to levy, subject to applicable constitutional, statutory and charter tax rate limitations, and the resolution authorizing the bonds contains an irrevocable appropriation of the amount necessary to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds of this issue from moneys derived from such State-collected taxes so returned to the City for highway purposes which have not been theretofore specifically allocated and pledged for the payment of indebtedness. This bond is of equal standing with other bonds issued by the City payable from said State-collected taxes, and the City reserves the right to issue additional bonds payable from said State-collected taxes within the limitations prescribed by law.

This bond is not a general obligation of the State of Michigan.

This bond is transferable only upon the books of the City kept for that purpose at the office of the transfer agent by the registered owner hereof in person, or by the registered owner's attorney duly authorized in writing, upon the surrender of this bond together with a written instrument of transfer satisfactory to the transfer agent duly executed by the registered owner or the registered owner's attorney duly authorized in writing, and thereupon a new registered bond or bonds in the same aggregate principal amount and of the same maturity shall be issued to the transferee in exchange therefor as provided in the resolution authorizing the bonds of this issue, and upon the payment of the charges, if any, therein prescribed.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required to be done, exist and happen, precedent to and in the issuance of said series of bonds of which this is one, in order to make them valid and binding obligations of the City, have been done, exist and have happened in regular and due form and time as required by law, and that the total indebtedness of the City, including the series of bonds of which this is one, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the City of Inkster, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, by its City Council, has caused this bond to be signed in the name of the City with the manual signatures of its Mayor and its City Clerk and the City seal to be affixed hereto, all as of the Date of Original Issue.

Trekkies line up to see Star Trek Generation special effects

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

It has all the special effect glitz and glamour Star Trek fans expect from their favorite flick and television series.

The new film, Star Trek Generations, is now playing at theatres throughout the state. The latest rendition of the space adventure brings together the cast from the television series Star Trek: The Next Generation and the original Star Trek movie cast.

Trekkies will get to see their beloved Captain Kirk, portrayed by William Shatner, in Generations as well as Scotty, James Doohan, and Chekov, Walter Koenig.

In Star Trek Generations a long-lived alien goes in search of the answer to a mystery that he, by accident, uncovered. The alien is willing to destroy civilizations to attain his goal. Both captains of the Enterprise together attempt to stop him.

"Captain Kirk is an American icon and Captain Jean-Luc Picard embodies the same qualities—courage, farsightedness, moral values and a future offering great hope," said David Carson, director of the film.

Principal photography for Star Trek Generations began on March 28, 1994. While many cast members of the television series Star Trek: The Next Generation were completing the final episode of the high-rated show, the filmmakers gathered on Stage 5, Paramount's largest soundstage, to shoot a scene where Shatner as Captain Kirk maneuvers within a three-story shaft to risk his life in an effort to prevent the destruction of the Enterprise.

"Star Trek" history was made as the two famous captains of the Enterprise were brought together for the first time to film a scene in and around a cabin located above the Alabama Hills near the town of Lone Pine in California's Owens Valley.

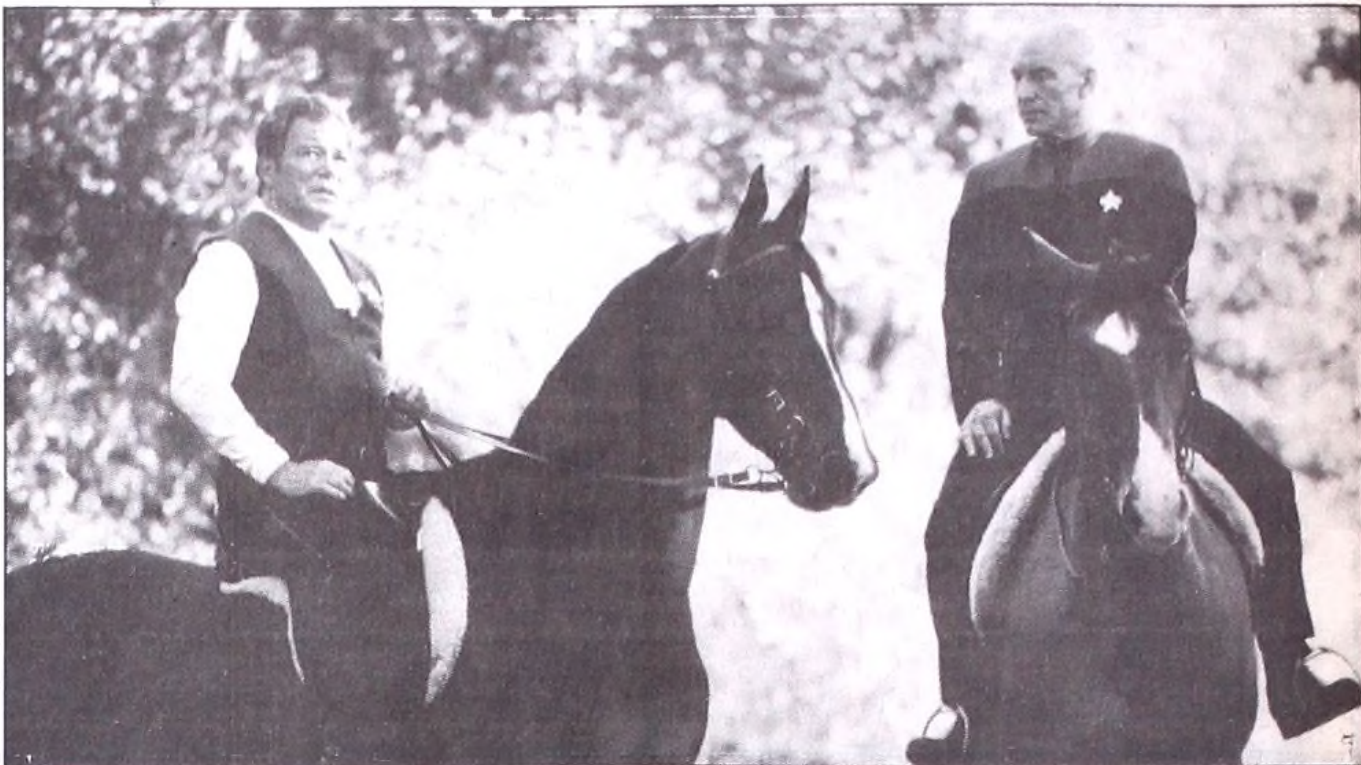

The sequence was completed at the Beery Ranch in a small town known as Hart Flat, an hour's car journey from Bakersfield.

The surface of a planet in the Veridian system that becomes the site of Soran's outpost was filmed in Nevada's Valley of Fire, located an hour's drive northeast of Las Vegas.

Eight days of desert filming concluded the 11 weeks of principal photography.

The outcome of the production is now reaping its rewards at the box office. Movie goers are calling it a huge success, however Trekkies may not be too happy about the ending.

Sorry, nothing more can be revealed. You'll have to see it for yourself. Happy holidays.

Capt. Jean-Luc Picard (Patrick Stewart, right above) accompanies Capt. James T. Kirk (William Shatner) on an unexpected excursion in Star Trek Generations. Lt. Comdr. CHARITY

"Once he is there, he will be on an active donor list," Unger said. It may take three to four months to locate a donor. During the interim Greg will build up his body through physical therapy and a treadmill. Once surgery begins, there is a six-hour window to successfully transplant the lungs.

"Greg is 14. He is trying to keep this from being in school. The children know he is sick, but he wants to be a normal kid. Greg has had lung infections and a collapsed lung, so we know his lungs are not doing well," Unger said.

A bake sale raised $4,000 and the Unger family is looking for corporate sponsors for a golf outing to be staged this spring.

The Children's Organ Transplant of America (COTA) is handling the funds. Individual contributions can be deposited at any National Bank of Detroit office. The memo space of a check needs to include the account number 215080176914.

Larry Trinsky, a cousin of Greg's, is handling canister distribution. Cash registers are ideal locations and a volunteer would be asked to service it by emptying the canister twice a week to avoid theft. Trinsky can be reached at (810) 363-5243.
